Constitution for Republic Needs British Approval

BY MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

Zurich, Switzerland —Greece and Turkey agreed today on a proposed constitution for an independent Cyprus and prepared to ask Britain to approve it.

Prime Ministers Constantinos Karamanlis of Greece and Adnan Menderes of Turkey, meeting in the final session of their conference here, approved the draft prepared by their foreign ministers in the five days of hard bargaining.

Menderes Karamanlis

An end at last appeared in sight to the long and bitter dispute over the British island colony in the east Mediterranean, off the south coast of Turkey.

Turkish Foreign Minister Fatih Rustu Zorlu said the agreement would strengthen the western alliance.

Seek British Approval Zorlu and Greek Foreign Minister Evangelos Averoff prepared to fly to London this afternoon to submit the proposed constitution to British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd.

In the British capital, a foreign office spokesman said Prime Minister MacMillan's government wholeheartedly welcomed the news. British officials would not comment further until they had studied the constitution in detail. London's approval was considered certain since Greece and Turkey had agreed, and since the constitution guarantees Britain will retain the big military bases on the island.

White House Denies Rumors Dulles May Quit

Washington —P—The White House denied with double-barreled emphasis today all speculation that President Eisenhower might be concerned over a possibility that Ailing Sec. of State Dulles may retire.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower had instructed him to "say doubly" what Hagerty had told reporters last night—that rumors of Dulles' retirement are "completely cockeyed."

Hagerty told a news conference that his designation of such reports as "cockeyed" can now be considered to be "doubled in spades." He added semi-humorously that it is just too bad if that bridge-playing expression is hard to translate into other languages.

Hussein to Visit U. S. During 6-Week Tour

Amman, Jordan —P—King Hussein will tour the United States, the Far East and Europe in a 6-week trip starting next month, the royal palace announced today.

The announcement gave no exact dates. It said Hussein will first visit Formosa at the invitation of President Chiang Kai-shek.

Hussein then will go to the United States on a private visit. From the United States Hussein will visit Britain and some other European countries.

Negro Pupils Board White School Bus

Alexandria, Va. —G—White and Negro pupils rode together on a school bus here today. It may have been the first time such a thing has happened in Virginia.

Five Negroes boarded the bus without incident and rode with white pupils about two miles to the William Ramsay elementary school.

State school officials said if there have been other such cases they were in rural areas where separate bus service would be difficult.

Only the mother of three of the children, a few reporters and photographers were on hand to watch.

As nearly as observers could tell, the white pupils already on the bus paid no greater notice than if pupils of their own race were boarding it.

The five Negroes assembled at the home of Mrs. George Turner, who drove them to the bus stop. They waited in Mrs. Turner's car until the bus arrived, then scamped aboard.

Two Negroes also entered the Theodore Ficklin elementary school and two others went to the Francis Hammond High school yesterday for the first time. These, however, are not eligible to ride school buses.

Points Pistol At Officer

Green Bay Police Talk Intruder Into Surrendering

Green Bay —P—A 30-year-old man who pulled a gun on a lieutenant at police headquarters early today was finally talked into surrendering rather than shoot it out with the officer.

A charge of intentionally pointing a firearm at another person was lodged today against Donald Mercer, a 6-foot-3 part-time merchant seaman. He was unable to explain his actions.

Lieut. Frank Bielmier, who was on duty at the main desk, said Mercer walked into headquarters about 1 a.m. and demanded a ride in a squad car to the state reformatory between Green Bay and De Pere.

Pulls Out Pistol

"I just want to look the joint over," Mercer said. Bielmier said he told Mercer it would be impossible to grant the request. Then, according to Bielmier, Mercer took a few steps backward, pulled out a pistol and ejected a shell, apparently to prove that the weapon was loaded, and pointed the gun at the lieutenant.

Bielmier stood up and motioned to two officers in an adjoining radio room. Robert DuFour and Orbie Bodart. They were not aware of what was happening and when they walked into the room they were promptly covered by Mercer.

When Mercer's attention was distracted, Bielmier was able to grab his service revolver and point it at Mercer.

The officers continued to talk to Mercer and convinced him he should drop his gun.

Floods Threaten Cities in North Indiana and Ohio

8-Inch Fall, Drifts Bury Fox Cities

The most severe storm of an already severe winter blew itself out over the Fox Cities Tuesday night, leaving in its wake eight inches of new snow and hip-deep drifts in many a yard and driveway.

Skies cleared and the temperature fell to one degree below zero this morning. Forecasters see a return to cloudy skies tonight and predict a chance for more snow in western portions Thursday night.

Mayor Mitchell at 7 a.m. today called off the Appleton snow emergency he had declared at 11 a.m. Tuesday. Primary and arterial streets were passable by morning and traffic was moving well in most areas of the city.

County Roads Outagamie county highway Commissioner Clarence Brownson said most roads in rural areas are open for 2-way traffic. Some town roads, he said, are not in good shape. The county had 50 pieces of equipment and 96 men working into the night. Workmen will be spending the next few days widening roadways. At the height of the storm, snow removal was costing the county about $500 each hour.

One Appleton street remained closed at mid-morning today as tired street department workers were finishing their "day."

Marquette street from Ullman street to Ballard road was passable for only about a half block and would be opened before all crewmen went home to sleep. Director of Public Works Duszynski reported.

Public Works

Snow plowing work started about 8 p.m. Tuesday when the full department force returned to the streets. Eighteen truck plows and four graders worked on the streets and two jeeps and a tractor on parking lots, alleys and public walks.

Salina, Kansas —P—A B-47 Stratojet from Schilling Air Force base at Salina, carrying a crew of four, crashed on takeoff last night at Goose Air base, Labrador. The Schilling public information office announced today.

Two men were killed and two were injured critically, it said.

The injured are being flown to Brooks General hospital in San Antonio, Texas.

The plane left Schilling yesterday on what was described as a routine training flight.

The PIO said names of the crewmen would not be released until this afternoon.

Police Herd Four Bandits from the Clintonville police station. They were captured at Clintonville during the snow storm Tuesday. They were arraigned this morning in Antigo for the armed robbery of the Blackhawk tavern south of Antigo. Although heavily armed, the bandits surrendered to Clintonville Policemen M. M. Bodoh and James Beggs about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday. The tavern had been held up about 11:30 a.m. and the alert was sounded at 12:20 p.m.

Clintonville Police Capture Quartet Of Armed Bandits Without Firing Shot

Quartet Fleeing After Holding Up Blackhawk Tavern Near Antigo

(Another picture on page A-8) Clintonville — Four heavily armed bandits fleeing after holding up the Blackhawk tavern south of Antigo Tuesday were captured without a shot being fired here about two hours after the armed robbery.

Policemen James Beggs and M. M. Bodoh made the capture at 1:30 p.m. just south of the city limits. The department had been alerted at 12:20 p.m. by the Antigo police.

Police Chief Len Manser said the relatively easy arrest probably was because the police car siren was frozen and could not be used.

Had Dynamite Sticks "Those guys had dynamite sticks with 20-second fuses they use to stop police cars," he said. "If they knew they were being chased, we would never have caught them."

Chief Manser dispatched Beggs and Bodoh to the Main street intersection of Highway 45 and 22 when he received the Antigo broadcast.

The policemen spotted the car and chased it beyond the southern city limits, then Bodoh drove beside the bandits' car as Beggs covered them with a sawed-off shotgun, forcing the bandits to a stop.

The driver tried to draw his pistol, but a warning from Beggs stopped him.

Taken to Jail The four were herded out of their car and held at gunpoint until Chief Manser and Deputy Sheriff Ken Corbett, answering the policemen's assistance call, arrived. The quartet was taken to jail to await La Crosse county Sheriff Bruce G. Gable to return them to Antigo.

The men, all Negroes, were to be arraigned before Antigo Judge J. J. Gable today.

Strauss Urges Economy Stresses Danger in Large Wage Demands

Chicago —P—Sec. of Commerce Strauss today urged businessmen to resist "unwarranted wage demands" and join in a united conservative bloc to hold down government spending.

In his first major address since joining the cabinet last November, Strauss appealed for personal action by business leaders to "help defend our economy."

Would Shun Spending He also discounted contentions that Russia's rate of progress exceeds this country's. Their actual output in some fields is so low, he said in effect, that any substantial increase shows a high percentage rate.

The commerce chief asked businessmen to shun all federal spending proposals not included in the administration's budget, "even if your industry or locality is an intended beneficiary." He added, in his speech before the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry: "Resist the temptation to split the ranks of conservatives because your own idea of priorities for spending may differ."

In calling for restraint against wage boosts, Strauss

21 Dead in Tornado in St. Louis

By the Associated Press

Floodwaters choked with tons of ice threatened cities in northern Indiana and northern Ohio today.

Winter's violent weather ended or diminished in most sections of the nation. This left the rising floodwaters in Indiana and Ohio and the huge cleaning up job after the tornado in St. Louis the major problems at hand.

Fremont, its business district under two feet of water in the second flood in less than a month, was the hardest hit of Ohio's cities. The bloated Sandusky river was choked with ice jams to the north and south.

An estimated 1,000 Fremont residents were forced to leave their homes. Another 200 to 500 evacuees still are homeless from the January flood.

Ice upstream, south of Fremont, was being held back by Ballville dam. Should it cut loose suddenly, it would wreak havoc on the flooded business district.

Fail to Break Ice

An Ohio National Guard team made an unsuccessful effort to break the ice north of Fremont last night. They tried to cut a path to release the pent up waters that normally flow through marshy areas into Sandusky bay on Lake Erie.

The new flood was a foot higher than the January flood in Fremont. The city still is in a state of disaster from the first flood. Businesses still were advertising flood sales from the January destruction.

The Sandusky crested last night at Tiffin, upstream more than 20 miles and rose again this morning. A crest was reached last night at Findlay, on the Blanchard river, and prospects were brighter today.

Statewide, the situation in Ohio appeared less critical than during the earlier flood.

In Indiana, the worst floods in 46 years drove hundreds of families from their homes in the upper Wabash river valley. Roads were closed throughout the area.

The St. Louis twister left an estimate 1,400 persons homeless.

The tornado, striking in the pre-dawn hours Tuesday, killed at least 21 persons.

Of the estimated 300 persons injured, 70 remained in hospitals, one in critical condition. Some 4,000 buildings were reported damaged at a loss of $12 million by the insurance board of St. Louis.

Disaster Area

The Missouri metropolis was declared a disaster area by President Eisenhower, making it eligible for federal relief funds.

Tornadoes also hit areas in other parts of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. No deaths were reported but six persons were injured in Kentucky and five in Ohio. Many homes were damaged.

Biggest belt of precipitation during the night was from New England westward through Michigan and parts of the Ohio valley.

Cold air from the northern plains followed the stormy weather, reaching through Texas and the gulf coast states and moving into western sections of the Atlantic.

Indicate Summit Meeting in Offing

President Brings Up Subject at Conference; Says Great Deal Of Preparation Would be Needed

Washington — President Eisenhower apparently believes that a summit conference late this year is a definite possibility.

Such a meeting would bring him and other western government heads face-to-face with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev for a discussion of critical east-west issues. These undoubtedly would include questions of Germany and of disarmament.

Whether a conference is actually arranged probably will depend partly on whether east-west negotiations in the meantime ease Soviet pressures to get the United States, Britain and France out of West Berlin.

Summit Meeting

Eisenhower himself brought up the subject of a summit meeting briefly at his news conference yesterday in discussing a question about the effect of Secretary of State Dulles' illness on prospects for a foreign ministers meeting.

The president said he thought that Dulles' condition would not delay a foreign ministers conference, but noted that there has been no agreement with the Soviets yet on actually holding such a session. Then he added:

"I believe the Russians themselves are more concerned, Mr. Khrushchev is concerned, in a heads of government meeting, as he calls an informal and without-an-agenda type."

"Well, that would take a great deal of preparation," Soviet spokesmen, including Khrushchev and Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan have repeatedly called for a heads of government conference. While he was in the United States last month, Mikoyan argued that it would be a conference held in a fairly free wheeling manner without insistence on careful diplomatic work beforehand.

Despite the disagreement over the amount of advance preparation needed, informed officials say that a summit conference is indeed a possibility as things now stand.

British Interested

Diplomats have reported that British Prime Minister Macmillan is particularly interested in such a meeting. Macmillan faces the prospect of parliamentary elections within a year. Washington authorities say British political pressures were responsible for bringing about the summit conference at Geneva in 1955.

Meanwhile it was reported that a task force of U. S., British, French and German diplomats had completed the draft of a note to Russia suggesting a foreign ministers' meeting on German problems in the spring, probably beginning late April or early May.

The note now must be checked with the NATO allies through the North Atlantic council at Paris. It may be ready for delivery in Moscow next weekend or shortly thereafter.

High Tax Plan Under Attack In New York

Budget Hearing Brings Additional GOP Wrangling

Albany, N. Y. — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's record-high tax and spending plan, under fresh attack from fellow Republicans in the state assembly, drew heavy fire at the annual budget hearing today.

Organized labor, in the form of the New York State AFL-CIO, said Rockefeller "should be ashamed to even think" of raising income taxes on low-wage families.

A statewide taxpayers group contended that Rockefeller's program "may seriously injure the business climate of the state" instead of improving it, as he has promised to do.

400 Persons

The criticism was leveled in statements prepared for the hearing.

More than 400 persons had asked to speak and a thousand others sought to watch the wrangling over Rockefeller's $2,041,000,000 proposed budget.

The governor has asked for $277 million in new taxes, including a $150 million income tax boost, to help finance the spending program.

On the eve of the hearing, acting Speaker Joseph F. Carino called the assembly's Republican majority into conference for what he called "an exploratory discussion" of the budget.

No Prediction

One assemblyman reported that at least a dozen lawmakers declared they would not vote for the fiscal plan in its present form because of mounting protests from voters.

Carino declined to predict whether the budget would gain assembly approval. He said it was too soon to say.

The Republicans hold heavy margins in both the senate and the assembly.

Beverly Hills, Calif. — Edward G. Robinson, Jr., 28-year-old son of the actor, will have to serve a jail sentence if he violates six months' probation.

He was placed on probation Tuesday after Judge Atolph Alexander fired him $10 and suspended a 30-day jail sentence on his plea of guilty of disorderly conduct.

He was arrested Nov. 21, 1958, in the lobby of the Beverly Hills hotel on a drunk charge, but the complaint was changed to disorderly conduct.

Hearings Set On Downing Israeli Plane

The Hague, Netherlands — The world court will open hearings March 16 on Israel's request that Bulgaria be declared responsible for shooting down an Israeli airliner in which 58 persons died in 1955.

The first hearing will deal with preliminary Bulgarian objections to the court's jurisdiction.

The Israeli government instituted proceedings against Bulgaria in October, 1957. The court was then told that damages equivalent to $7,462,803 had been claimed and that Israel reserved the right at a later stage to claim moral and material reparation.

Among the dead were citizens of Israel, the United States, Britain, and seven other countries.

The U.S. and British governments have also instituted proceedings against Bulgaria before the world court in connection with the incident.

When Israel first started proceedings, the Bulgarian government offered to pay approximately $8,000 for each victim. The offer was rejected by Israel, the United States and most of the other countries concerned.

Bulgaria charged that the plane had strayed over her border into her territory. Israel said the Bulgarian government originally admitted that trigger-happy fighter pilots had shot the airliner down. Later Bulgaria amended this, charging that the Israeli crew was at fault in violating her air space.

Sweater Helps Make Dreams Come True

Knit 41 Years Ago, It's Responsible For Bringing Family to United States

New York — Ibrahim Badra, lately of Amman in troubled Jordan, strode confidently down the gangplank of the liner Giulio Cesare last night with his wife and their three young children.

They brought with them bright hopes for a future of happiness in America — and they also brought a strange old, tattered sweater that had been for so many years remains a mystery.

The sweater, knit 41 years ago by a 16-year-old American girl, was intended for an Amman tailor. He, too, had American doubts in the World War I trenches of the United States with his wife and children.

It may have kept a dough-boy warm. No one knows because there are missing chapters in the history of the sweater.

But it is known that the sweater was responsible for bringing Ibrahim Badra and his family to America.

Best For People

Said Mrs. Rose Badra: "It is known all over the world that America is best for people and children."

The Badra family sponsors the World Council of Churches are Mrs. Marguerite Todd and the Rev. Mr. Beveridge and his wife obtained permission from the First Baptist church of Belmont, Mass.

It was Mrs. Beveridge, then boarded the Italian liner in a school girl, who knitted the sweater in 1918.

Before giving it to the Red Cross for shipment overseas, Mrs. Beveridge had sewn a tag to the sweater with her name and address in New Rochelle, N.Y.

During the war she waited hopefully, but in vain, to hear from an American soldier that the sweater had arrived.

GOP Pleased With Work of Ike's Advisor

Wilton B. Persons Puts Emphasis on Patronage Matters

Washington — Republicans are crediting Presidential Assistant Wilton B. Persons with bringing about a new White House awareness of political matters in appointments.

Persons, who succeeded Sherman Adams as President Eisenhower's right hand man, apparently is pleasing congressional Republicans with his cooperativeness.

Unlike Adams, who sometimes preferred a Democrat to a Republican, Persons is reported to feel that the road to harmony within the party is through paying attention to the recommendations of party senators and house members when there is a job to fill.

Varying Success

Congressional Republicans have pressed this same view upon GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn, with reports of varying success. There have been some complaints, but most of them think Alcorn's record of consulting with them is improving.

For his own part, Alcorn apparently is finding it a great deal easier under the Persons regime than under Adams to convey his appointment recommendations to Eisenhower.

Unlike Adams, Persons has assigned specific responsibilities within his office and has assigned David Kendall as his deputy to pay personal attention to patronage matters.

More Awareness

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday that no one, including Alcorn, can veto any selection he may make for an appointment. But his statement that "political considerations come in" was interpreted as indicating more awareness of this factor than some Republicans thought he had shown in the past.

In this connection, it seemed unlikely that Eisenhower would override Alcorn's opposition to appoint Henry LaBouisse, Connecticut Democrat, as head of the international cooperation administration.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, quoting published reports that Alcorn had intervened to prevent the nomination of LaBouisse, told the senate Monday that "is going too far."

He called on Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles to resist political pressure in making diplomatic appointments.

Female Disc Jockey Starts Ninth Day Without Any Sleep

Pocatello, Idaho — Disc jockey Jo Warner started today by spinning a long-play record. And she hopes to end it with a new record for non-stop broadcasting.

The 22-year-old announcer for radio station KYTE began her ninth day of broadcasting in a downtown music store. "I'm a little tired," she said.

She admitted her voice was growing weak after 180 hours — a mark she passed at midnight. She hopes to keep up the wakeathon for 240 hours. It's for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

Tom Becker, co-owner of the station, said it would be up to Jo to decide when she wants to go to sleep.

The record for sleeplessness is claimed by Dave Hunter of Jacksonville, Fla., who completed 9 days, 9 hours and 9 seconds without sleep on Jan. 29.

Tax Officials Cancel Levy; House Burned

Lexington, N.C. — John B. Leonard figured he's seen the limit of ingratiation when his 1958 city tax notice listed a $439 bill for an ancient 4-room house.

Red-faced city officials hurriedly sent a follow-up letter advising Leonard the tax had been dropped.

They suddenly remembered that last year Leonard had been good enough to let city and county firemen burn the house in a training exercise.

Insurance Firms Opposed to Financial Responsibility Bill

Would Demand Driver Turn In His Plates

Madison — A bill that would require motorists to turn in their license plates if they failed to show evidence of financial responsibility was opposed by insurance companies Tuesday before a public hearing of the assembly judiciary committee.

The bill, sponsored by Assemblyman George Belting-R-Beloit, states that an insurance policy, bond or deposit of money can be used as evidence of responsibility.

Opposition to the bill came from representatives of the Wisconsin Mutual Insurance Alliance and the Association of Casualty and Surety companies.

Damaging Argument

The most damaging argument against the bill came when a motor vehicle department spokesman said it would cost about $450,000 a year to administer such a law.

Insurance company representatives said that experience in other states with a similar law resulted in an increase in accidents and cost of insurance. They said most companies operating in Wisconsin provide protection against uninsured drivers.

Hidden Sketches Increase Value of French Painting

Chicago — The theft of French painter Paul Gauguin apparently produced a double work of art—a panel of sketches on the back of a major Gauguin pastel drawing.

The newly-discovered pencil sketches, revealed Tuesday for the first time, are dated 1892, Tahiti, and show a woman's hand, a woman holding her head in her hands and a tattooed hand and wrist.

On the other side is a pastel titled "Standing Tahitian Nude (Eye)." Like many artists, Gauguin used one side of the paper as a sketch pad before drawing his major work. It saved paper.

The drawing previously was valued between $50,000 and $60,000. Harold Joachim, curator of prints and drawings at the Chicago Art Institute, said the sketches increase the value of the work by a third.

The 21 by 36 painting is owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Cowles of Minneapolis. Cowles is president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune.

William Platz, assistant attorney general, urged the committee to recommend passage of the bill because the practice of charging counties 50 per cent of the cost of the lab services was detrimental to law enforcement.

The measure was also supported by the Wisconsin District Attorney's association, the Wisconsin Sheriffs and Deputy Sheriffs association, the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, and Charles Wilner, a son, crime lab superintendent.

1-Year Budget Plan Accepted

But State Departments Will Ask More Funds for Next Fiscal Term

BY JOHN WYNGARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The legislature's budget - writing joint finance committee Tuesday showed tacit acceptance of Gov. Gaylord Nelson's 1-year budget plan.

But Chairman W. A. Draheim of Neenah, a Republican, succeeded in getting on the record statements from several departmental witnesses that the budget proposals of the governor for the first year of the biennium are comparatively smaller than the demands for the second year. Thus, in effect, Draheim was showing that the slenderly-balanced Nelson fiscal program for the first year of the term of the new Democratic state regime will be followed by a stiff budget deficit in the second year, unless programs are cut back, or new revenues are provided.

Always 2-Year
(For three quarters of a century the state's finances have been managed on a biennial or 2-year basis, with separate departmental appropriations enacted for each of the two years. This year Gov. Nelson announced that he would present recommendations only for the first year of his term, and defer second year proposals pending further study of departmental operations and a review of state tax structure. The legislature will be summoned into special session in the fall to handle the second year funding.)

The committee session was the first of the year on the appropriation requests of state agencies.

Most of the first day's witnesses appeared to make no objection to the governor's proposals for their departments, which for the most part would keep the existing level of services.

But Draheim drew from several of them admissions that they will ask considerably more money during the second year of the biennium. One of them was Eugene Lamb, the new state treasurer elected on the Democratic state ticket last November.

Lamb said he was agreeable to Nelson's budget for the treasury for this year, but said he would need much more for the second year because of automatic pay raises and merit raises for his subordinates.

Because the committee consists largely of new members, including many who are first timers in the legislature itself, most of the department heads started their testimony with elementary descriptions of their duties and functions and the importance of their work.

Among them was T. F. Wisniewski, head of the state committee on water pollution.

Wisniewski said the municipalities of Wisconsin have made rapid and satisfactory progress in eliminating surface water pollution in recent years by the construction of costly sewage treatment

Tied Up Employees
Three men entered the Blackhawk tavern about 11:30 a.m. They ordered drinks, drew their guns and tied up the three male employees and a woman employee with telephone wire and forced them to lie on the floor in an upstairs bedroom. The woman managed to free herself and called the police about noon. Louie Gentile, the owner, was not at the tavern. Today he refused to identify his employees.

The $2,500 in cash, several cases of whiskey and a diamond ring taken in the hold-up were found in the bandits' car.

The 1957, tudor, 2-tone sedan used by the bandits was filled with loot and their armory, Chief Manser said.

The police inventory of the articles captured with the bandits included a Smith and Wesson pistol, a Colt .38 caliber Special Cobra pistol, a .45 Browning automatic pistol, a .410 sawed-off shotgun, a blackjack, a knife and 10 sticks of dynamite, each with 20-second fuses.

Cash found in four cigar boxes was not counted. An additional $1,195.13 in several denominations was counted.

Array of Loot
Other objects included eight wrist watches of four different makes, a woman's diamond ring, four cigaret lighters, a portable television set, two sets of silver, a set of kitchen utensils, 12 pints of whiskey, 42 half-pints of whiskey, four half-pints of gin and a fifth of brandy.

In addition the police found a large amount of clothing, two suitcases and a bag of assorted tools.

The car displayed Michigan license plates and two sets of Ohio plates were found in the car.

Traced Michigan Plates
Chief Manser said a report years by the construction of from Michigan traced the license plates to a man wanted in Flint, Mich. The plates had been issued for a 1951 Buick.

Chief Manser said he will hold the loot until the owners have identified it.

Sheriff Gillespie said he will seek assistance from the Federal Bureau of Investigation early on Nov. 10, two days before the American flier was regime to kill rebel leader in making positive identification of the four bandits, said to have been in Havana, Fidel Castro and that he was in Havana Nov. 12. Mystery Tremor Shakes Section of Texas Panhandle

Amarillo, Texas — Something shook up this area

Wednesday, Feb. 11, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent A4

Tuesday but nobody seems to know what it was.

The tremor, accompanied by two distinct blasts, shook a large section of the Texas panhandle and southeastern New Mexico.

The shock was felt in an area from 100 miles northeast of Amarillo to Roswell, N.M., 200 miles to the southwest.

Witnesses said houses swayed and they reported hearing unpleasant noises like trucks hitting buildings, horses galloping, and gas explosions.

The seismograph at Texas Tech college in Lubbock registered a slight motion. One at Southern Methodist university in Dallas didn't.

Dr. Eugene Herrin, observatory director at SMU, suggested the tremor was the result of an atmospheric disturbance.

Lawrence Says:
Labor Should Move Against Unemployment
Magazine Survey
Shows Job Losses;
Legislation Needed

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — The paradox of continued unemployment on a large scale during a period of steadily progressing recovery is something that should begin to worry the labor leaders of America. It already has produced anxiety among businessmen.

For, though business is slowly approaching high levels, the number of jobs isn't increasing as they should. The latest figures show that perhaps labor is pricing itself out of the market and that labor-saving machinery is being forced on industry at an unprecedented rate.

The economic unit of a weekly news magazine presents the results of a survey of the job loss in the last 10 years. This survey reveals, for instance, that since the close of World War II, the output per worker has increased 19 per cent in steel because the industry pressed by high labor costs has rushed new equipment and techniques to hold payrolls down. The result is that in 1958 the steel business employed only 536,000 workers.

Auto Jobs Down
Similarly, in autos, labor's loss in ten years due to higher output per man is 132,000 jobs. An additional 48,000 jobs were lost due to the imports of foreign cars.

Another dramatic example is in the coal industry where a 46 per cent increase in efficiency of output due to modern methods and labor-saving equipment has kept down the number of workers. Employees in 1958 in the bituminous coal mines numbered 195,000, but for the same output now as in 1948 there would have been needed 95,000 more workers than are employed today.

The oil refining industry notes a loss of 71,800 jobs in the last ten years.

This information comes at a time when American industry, fearful of the power of labor in the present Congress, feels the necessity for introducing more and more labor-saving equipment. This course is often a very expensive one. Seeing higher and higher payrolls every year regardless of any assurance of greater productivity, there is but one choice to make. That is introduction of labor-saving devices to get the increased productivity.

Unemployment Up
The U. S. Department of Labor in figures just released says that there are still many hard-hit areas in the country and that 11 of the 149 major labor markets in the United States have as much as 12 per cent unemployment. In 17 cities the report shows from 9 to 12 per cent unemployed and in 48 more the figures show 6 to 9 per cent unemployed. There are 76 labor surplus areas, compared with 45 in that status a year ago.

What is needed is a study by the government to learn just what kind of companies in each industry are finding it hard going and why. The outward appearance is of a boom. Many of the well financed and more efficient plants, where new machinery has been introduced, can do a better job and at lower prices competitively than can many of the so-called marginal companies.

America can have a boom among the large industrial plants and yet see the plants of smaller companies running at much less than normal capacity. The Department of Justice seems to think the answer lies in bringing antitrust suits against the large companies, but this alone cannot halt the drift toward more mergers. For it would appear that it is the plight of the smaller marginal companies which is producing much of the unemployment.

Mergers Inevitable
Mergers among smaller companies are inevitable in many industries, but even this will not help much if the big labor unions negotiate wage scales with the big companies at rates that are ruinous to the smaller companies. The national pattern is usually set on the basis of contracts with the large corporations. The smaller ones have to pay the going wage rates or find themselves out of business.

This is why what is going on in Washington is so important to the national economy. If the budget remains unbalanced in large amounts, the purchasing power of the dollar will continue to slide down. This means that, as the cost of living goes up, the union leaders will feel they must have higher and higher wage scales to take care of the majority of their workers even though it means unemployment for the minority now idle. This is not achieving the much talked of goal of full employment. In fact, there is much talk nowadays of permanent unemployment, which is but another way of saying that fewer new jobs will be created and that the additions annually to the job-seeking population will become a bigger and bigger strain on the nation.

The tendency is to try to cure everything by more public spending and by more and more borrowing by the government. The effect, however, is not to cure things, but make them worse as the dollar is driven down in value. Planning ahead in business during such an era is hazardous. When will the legislators here come to grips with the economic facts of American life?

Task Ahead for Castro

Social Revolution in Cuba Just Starting

BY ROBERT BERTELLEZ
Havana — Fidel Castro's social revolution has just begun. It promises to be immeasurably more difficult than the military preliminary that ended Jan. 1. In dislodging dictator Fulgencio Batista, Castro was operating against a known sugar cane field to other products that will make Cuba the near intangibles that have less dependent on foreign imports. Now he is up against a century of unemployment, poverty and disease on one hand, corruption and privilege on the other. Castro's spade work for revolution is starting in the cradle of professionals—lawyers and engineers—who took up arms of his revolution, impoverish eastern Cuba, among the Guajiros, the poor farm folk, of the Sierra Maestra.

Recovery and development about 7½ million acres of idle farm land that Castro says has been stolen from the government; Find jobs for about 600,000 persons chronically unemployed; Convert millions of acres of sugar cane fields to other products that will make Cuba the near intangibles that have less dependent on foreign imports.

The revolutionary government's agricultural and tariff reform programs were drafted in the midst of the revolution by the score or so of professionals—lawyers and engineers—who took up arms of his revolution, impoverish eastern Cuba, among the Guajiros, the poor farm folk, of the Sierra Maestra.

In theory, the application is simple. These are the tasks ahead: Hector Goiricelaya, an agronomist who studied annually, mostly from the United States. High tariffs will protect the ministry of agriculture, says there is enough Cuban producer and help state owned land illegally taken over by private operators. Unemployment is still another major problem. Pay Low, Many Jobless A recent United Nations survey said that of a working force of 2,204,000 Cubans, only 1,592,000 have permanent jobs. Of these, 864,000 receive between $30 and $70 monthly. Sugar cane workers average from $30 to $40 a month on an average of five months work a year. Thus Castro hopes to have the Bastista government last year fixed a minimum wage of $75 a month, but board, with 60 degree readings general northward through Virginia. But northward they dropped sharply to the 20s in New England. West of the Rockies, rain fell along coastal areas from California northward through Washington, with heaviest falls in California. Light snow was reported in the plateau region. Temperatures in most western regions were around normal.

In St. Louis, civil defense officials expressed belief all victims had been recovered from the wreckage. "I believe they have them all out but there's always the possibility somebody might turn up with some new information," said Brig. Gen. Francis P. Hardaway (ret), director of civil defense.

The tornado struck without warning and moved at tremendous speed. It took only minutes to blow itself out in the Busch stadium area, after leveling a 330-foot radio tower and a 575-foot television tower.

The St. Louis civil defense agency acknowledged it did not function smoothly in spite of eight years of preparation for such a disaster. CD officials blamed the weather bureau for not predicting the tornado and sending out an alert.

The weather bureau replied it would have been impossible to do so.

Greeks, Turks Agree to Make Cyprus Nation

itary bases she has established on Cyprus.

A 300-word communique said the two premiers reached a compromise agreement "despite the considerable difficulties" presented by the Cyprus problem.

Happy Over Agreement

"The cause of freedom and collaboration and of prosperity on Cyprus emerged victoriously from this trial," the communique said.

The two premiers emerged smiling and obviously happy ing.

Final points of a proposed constitution for an independent Cyprus republic as well as the text of the communique were agreed upon at the closing meeting.

The two premiers shook hands before a battery of photographers and television cameramen but declined to make any statement. They left for a hotel dining room where Menderes was host at a luncheon for Karamanlis and the two delegations. The two premiers drank a toast in champagne to permanent Greek-Turkish friendship.

Athens reports said Karamanlis on his return will meet Archbishop Makarios, spiritual leader of the Greek Cypriot community, to discuss details of the agreement.

NATO Pleased

News of the agreement also heartened all other members of the North Atlantic alliance.

Greece and Turkey form NATO's eastern anchor, and the Cyprus fight had halted cooperation between them for several years.

Britain has ruled Cyprus since 1879, and the island now is the major British base in the east Mediterranean. Of its 500,000 people, 400,000 are of Greek descent and 100,000 of Turkish origin.

For four years British troops have been fighting a guerrilla rebellion by Eoka, the Greek Cypriot underground which originally demanded that Cyprus unite with Greece. The Turkish minority demanded continuance of British rule or partition of the island between its two communities. Independence guaranteed by the troops of all three nations, with special rights for the Turkish minority, is the solution that has been worked out.

Economy Plea By Strauss

echoed the economic report which President Eisenhower sent to congress last month. However, Strauss omitted the president's companion plea for restraint on prices.

"Think of the public welfare before agreeing to unwarranted wage demands," the secretary said. "Big business, in particular, has an extramural social obligation to small business whose difficulties are greater because often it cannot absorb rising costs equally well. Think about small business — and think twice about the consumer."

The cabinet member also called for a search for means to cut industry costs, develop new techniques and new products.

He said business should be more active in "building public understanding of the widespread benefits" of a balanced budget and price stability.

Strauss discounted Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's recent boast that Russian production will surpass the physical volume of U. S. output by 1970.

Early Goals Not Met

"Similar chest thumping preceded the five previous (Soviet 7-year) plans, none of which hit the mark," he said.

Taking up Khrushchev's prediction that Russia's annual rate of future industrial growth will exceed that of the United States, Strauss said:

"It is an economic axiom that high percentage rates on growth should be considered in relation to the base. For when expansion starts from a low base figure, the rate of climb can appear high though the increments are small."

He said that while the projected capacity of the Soviet steel industry may total 95 to 100 million tons by 1965, the commerce departments estimates U. S. capacity will then be in the range of 170 to 180 million tons.

"A basic fact to be kept in mind in comparing the communist economic system with our own," he said, "is that our national product in 1958 was $387 billion, that of the U. S. R. about $180 billion — if you want to believe their statistics."

Fox Cities Buried Under 8-Inch Snowfall; Residents Dig Out Today

streets had been made at least passable by that time. Duszynski said, by a make-shift crew that included two engineers and two electricians as truck drivers.

The "full force" crew had worked from midnight to 9 a. m. Tuesday clearing piled snow of the previous storm from the downtown area. Tonight, they'll resume the work.

In snow removal, the department tonight will use the same equipment it used Monday night and Tuesday morning. Two snow loaders, 13 trucks, four graders and two jeeps.

Where To Put It?
"It better stop snowing soon," said Duszynski, "or we won't know where to put it all."

Commonly the city dumps the downtown snow into the Fox river off S. Lave street where the water runs open. Snow from northern sections is dumped on city-owned land at N. Rankin street and Bel-laire park ravine.

Duszynski said Tuesday night's plowing was made easier because people stayed home and out of the way. About 8 p. m., he said some motorists evidently were out to see just how much snow had fallen.

A large water main broke in E. South River street near the Institute of Paper Chemis-try late Tuesday afternoon, flooding the street.

Water department crewmen worked all night, but through mid-morning were unable to find where the break came.

Water Service
They did uncover a second break in the same line sever-al blocks to the east and were working on it.

Meanwhile, water for the line was shut off.

Leaking water service con-nections — in pipes off the mains to individual buildings — were reported at four places, Wisconsin avenue and Un-ion street, Badger avenue and Packard street, Oneida and Washington streets and on E. Water street.

The total of frozen water pipes connecting mains to houses stood somewhere be-tween 45 and 50, Water Com-mission Sec. Arthur Dimick reported at mid-morning.

Appleton Fire Chief Neu-mann and Water Commission Chairman Wagg today joined in a plea to householders to keep fire hydrants free of snow in digging out opera-tions.

Neumann dispatched a 3-man crew of off-duty firemen to shovel free hydrants in res-idential areas.

Neenah-Menasha
The department was lucky overnight, Neumann said, in that its only two calls were minor chimney fires in which damage was slight.

In Winnebago county all highway units went out at midnight and by 7 a. m. most roads had at least 1-way traf-fic. Main roads are in good shape. Schools in the county are back to normal today.

Neenah - Menasha crews worked through the night. Traffic moved slowly but bet-ter conditions were reported this morning. Snow removal is getting to be an acute problem, city officials re-port. The Neenah theater didn't open Tuesday night.

The storm caused a record number of long distance calls to be handled by the Wiscon-sin Telephone company, ac-cording to Richard Van Sis-tine, manager of the Appleton exchange.

He said 8,001 long distance calls were handled by 85 op-erators, breaking the stand-ing record of 7,600 calls. The number is 23 per cent above normal.

Van Sistine said there was an overload on local calls as well but the company kept no count on the number.

No Wisconsin - Michigan Power company customers were out of service although a 138,000-volt feeder circuit from Milwaukee was out of order. The two other feeder circuits were able to provide sufficient power to this area, according to the company.

Transportation difficulties continued throughout the day. Although local buses were running, they sometimes were behind schedule while cab companies reported they ran from 1 1/2 to 2 hours behind calls.

Greyhound buses ran about 15 minutes behind and one came in one hour late.

Chicago North Western trains also ran from 1 1/2 to 2 hours late Tuesday but the 7:15 a. m. southbound left on time this morning. The 6:45 a. m. northbound left about two hours late today.

Appleton, apparently, had few traffic tieups as a result of the snow. The police re-ceived 23 calls into the early evening with most of them coming between 4 and 6 o'clock.

Calumet and Waupaca county roads were reported open but slippery this morn-ing. Crews there, as in most other counties, worked through the night. Schools in Chilton remain closed today

Bodoh, Police Chief Len Manser and Policeman James Beggs of the Clintonville department and Deputy Sheriff Ken Corbett. Bodoh and Beggs made the capture. Among the arms were a Smith and Wesson, a Colt .38 Special Cobra, a .45 Browning automatic, a .32 German pistol and the .410 sawed off shotgun held by Corbett. More than $1,100 in cash was also found in the bandits' car. (Story on Page 1).

State Won't Promise Simultaneous Valuing

Will Consider It Next Time Work Planned In Two Counties, Supervisor Tells City

Simultaneous reappraisal of Outagamie and Calumet coun-ties for tax equalization pur-poses will be considered next time work in either county is contemplated.

This was the gist of a let-ter received today by City Clerk Broehm from Donald J. Sherman, state supervisor of assessments at Fond du Lac.

Sherman's remarks were in reply to a request for simul-taneous reappraisal of the two counties sought by Ald Robert F. Stumpf.

Stumpf told the city coun-cil in January the simultane-ous reappraisal is needed so that the assessing practices in both Outagamie and Calu-met counties of the city can be checked one against the other.

"It will be some time again before the two counties come up for revaluation by our of-fice," Sherman said. "Never-theless, because of the loca-tion of the city of Appleton,

I, too, believe that it is a con-sideration that must be taken into account when the time again arrives for revaluation of the two counties.

Cannot Promise
"Of course," he added "I cannot promise anything defi-nite at this time in view of the uncertain future date for this work by our office."

The district assessment of-fices are charged by the legis-lature with revaluing each county every six years for distribution of tax demands by the state and county. Fond du Lac's office is responsible for 20 northeastern counties, ex-tending from Door county to the Illinois line and west to Dane county.

"It has been impossible," said Sherman, "for us to com-plete the work in a 6-year pe-riod due to the immensity of the task and the lack of per-sonnel."

New improve-ments alone during the past four or five years have been adding to our district the equivalent of an average size county a year."

It's possible he says, that Appleton will be extending in to Winnebago county "in the not too distant future" and, "if our work force remains the same, it would be im-possible to work the three counties in any one given year."

Frenzls Make Counter-Offer On Parking Lot

The Frenz family this morning made the city a counter-offer for its property adjacent to a city-owned park-ing lot.

Jack Frenz, acting for his sister, Mrs. Mary Mitchell, and brother, Joseph, said the family wants $30,000 for the about 5,440-foot lot at 215 N. Morrison street.

The board of public works in January offered the family $27,500 after the Frenzls said they wanted $35,000. The new price figures to about $5 1/2 a square foot.

The Frenzls' lot would pro-vide spaces for about 21 cars by itself, or 30 cars when joined to abutting city park-ing facilities.

Works board members be-lieve purchase of the lot is essential if the city ever plans to construct a multi-level parking ramp at Washington and Morrison streets.

Waukesha Principal To Be Buried Here

Burial services for Clyde M. Shields, 52, principal of South Campus High school, Waukesha, will be held Fri-day afternoon at Riverview cemetery. His wife is the former Leah Klundt of Appleton.

Shields died Monday in Philadelphia while attending an education convention.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Friday at First Presbyterian church, Waukesha.

P-C Trucks, Carriers Brave Drifts but Miss Some Areas

Post-Crescent paper car-riers and trucks slugged through heavy snow drifts Tuesday, but closed second-ary roads and stalled cars blocked some of the trucks, Erben Krueger, circulation manager, said today.

Subscribers in the out-lying areas who were missed will get their Tuesday news-papers today.

Trucks were unable to get through and into the Calu-met county area and were blocked by stalled cars be-fore they reached Sher-wood. Some villages in the far northern and western circulation areas also were missed.

Most of the Fox Cities pa-pers were delivered except a few routes on outlying streets which were not plowed out in time, he said. These papers also will be delivered today.

The Post-Crescent re-ceived numerous calls this morning complimenting the sturdy paper boys who slog-ged through hip deep snow to put papers inside storm doors or rang bells where they found doors locked.

Several mothers of paper boys who came home wet and cold suggested that subscribers might invite the boys inside in extremely cold or stormy weather. Krueger said He added: "A brief warmup will make the lot of the carrier a bit more pleasant."

TV Program Will Try To Show Real Lincoln

Hope to Give Old Photos, Prints Flow And Movement by Using New Techniques

BY JINGO
"Meet Mr. Lincoln," more than seven months in the making, will attempt to bring Lincoln to life tonight on WFRV-TV.

By using camera techniques new to television, the show tries to give movement and flow to century-old photographs and prints. The pictures were selected from some 25,000 gathered from the archives and private collections all over the country.

Background music will be a woven mixture of songs and marches of the north and south.

The program comes on the eve of the 150th anniversary of Lincoln's birth. Thursday on WFRV-TV at 1:30 p. m. you'll be able to watch and hear Poet Carl Sandburg address a joint session of congress on Lincoln lore.

On the same show, Actor Fredric March is scheduled to read the Gettysburg address.

The show replace "Haggis Baggis" for the day only.

"Playhouse 90" Thursday night offers "The Second Man," story of a British murder trial and a young woman lawyer's desperate efforts to save the defendant.

Starred are James Mason, Margaret Leighton, Hugh Griffith, Diana Wynyard and Kenneth Haigh.

Speaking of "Playhouse 90," Diane Varsi, young Hollywood film star, will make her TV debut in "The Dingaling Girl" on that series Feb. 25.

Gloria Vanderbilt and Jean Pierre Aumont star in tonight's "Steel Hour" story.

"Family Happiness" The story's about orphans and adopted.

Hypnosis Technique

May Be Useful as Crime Lie Detector

Dallas, Tex. — (U) — Harry Arons of Newark, N. J., who teaches hypnosis, says the technique can be used as a lie detector.

Arons, who just completed a course in hypnosis for doctors, dentists and psychologists at Southern university here, said hypnosis can be used with the polygraph lie detector or independently to help lawmen put the finger on fibs.

He says a suspect is hypnotized and a post-hypnotic suggestion is planted in his mind. Then, after he wakes up, he will react with a specific mannerism every time he tells a lie. His eye will twitch, he will pull an ear or rub his head, for instance.

Differ Over Higher

Rail Retirement Pay

Washington — (U) — Spokesmen for management and labor differed Monday over the wisdom of legislation to increase retirement benefits for railroad employees by 10 per cent.

Horace W. Harper, labor member of the railroad retirement board, called the bill overdue and the increases "very modest indeed."

Thomas M. Healy, management member, opposed the bill in its entirety, calling it "ill-timed and ill-advised" for an industry struggling to recapture its losses and keep as many employees as possible.

The increases proposed would be desirable to our beneficiaries and I am happy that the additional taxes proposed would put the system on a sound actuarial basis. The only question remaining is whether the industry can afford the additional taxes for, after all, a healthy railroad retirement system is dependent on a healthy railroad industry."

'Boy Friend' Ends 6-Year Run in London

Stepping-Stone to Stardom for Many, Brought in Millions

BY EDDY GILMORE
London — London this week loses one of its oldest theatrical friends. "The Boy Friend," a gay and nostalgic musical about the long gone 1920s.

Its history is a real rags-to-riches story, earning millions of dollars, giving employment to hundreds, even changing the lives of several people.

"The Boy Friend" began humbly in a little club theater beneath a railway viaduct in April, 1953.

"I wrote it for a three weeks' production," said author Sandy Wilson. "Instead, it has run for over five years and completely changed my life."

Gets Its Start

The first club audiences were wildly enthusiastic. Patrick Freeman, manager of a neighborhood theater saw it. He liked its gentle fun-making at the antics of a lot of people who are now grandmothers and grandfathers.

It featured the Charleston. The music was in the "voo-doo" style. The costumes of the girls called for dresses above the knees. It was flapperish, coonskin coatish and Stutz Bearcatish.

Freeman talked his bosses into giving it a 6-week trial. At the end of its first week in the bigger neighborhood theater its audience appeal was so exciting that it moved into the heart of London's theaterland.

Stars' Stepping Stone
On the evening of Jan. 14, 1954, it opened at Wyndham's theater.

It made money and it made author Wilson.

Anne Rogers, who played the original girl friend of the boy friend, flew from New York to London this week for the closing of a show that has had 2,084 performances.

"I grew up with this show," she sighed. "It taught me so much. I was 19 when I opened in it, the youngest leading lady in London."

Announcement of the London ending made it impossible to get tickets. Now it is going on the road.

Millions See Play

On Broadway, it gave Julie Andrews her first big role—a step to the fame she found in "My Fair Lady."

It has been produced in Mexico, South Africa, Kenya, Australia, New Zealand and Sweden.

More than a million and a quarter people have seen it here.

Doorman George Flemming has seen dozens of faces returning to time after time.

One man has stood at the back of the grand circle every Thursday evening for more than a year.

"I heard one woman tell another," said Flemming, "that she didn't know what she would do when it closes. She said, 'I always come here when I want cheering up.'"

Jimmy Durante, Schnozzola of the entertainment world, was 66 Tuesday. He says he has no plans to retire and he can keep up the grinding pace of nightclub work so long as he gets enough sleep. "With enough sleep I have the power to locomote," Durante says.

Appleton's Last Cigar Maker Practices Craft in Home Factory

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

You watch the deft fingers of Erwin C. Schmidt, Appleton's last cigar maker, and you know with some sadness that when this craftsman rolls his last cigar a whole industry here will end.

Schmidt is the owner and sole employee of the 80-year-old William Hooper Cigar company, housed in a small, neat factory behind his home at 139 State street. Here he makes some 9,000 cigars each year at the rate of about 300 a day.

The William Hooper Cigar company, named after a signer of the Declaration of Independence, is the last of many Appleton cigar manufacturers. In 1910, this city with a population of some 18,000 people supported 16 cigar factories. Seventeen years ago the only other firm (The P. J. Plesser company) ceased operations, leaving the field of hand-rollers to Schmidt alone.

Is there a trick to making cigars?

There is, indeed, Schmidt says. It is an art which must be learned when one is young. It requires a deft, not mastered the principal art.

Takes Years

"I'll bet I could have learned when we first started out if I tried," she said.

Schmidt smiled. "It takes three or four years of handling tobacco leaves before one can even run the stripper and to pack the leaves into 'books' for later use.

"One should know and be able to identify the different grades of tobacco by sight, by feel, by taste and by smell. The cutting knife must be applied just so, and the fingers must be fast and capable of almost no mistakes. After almost 50 years of making cigars by hand, I still spoil a leaf occasionally," he said.

"Handmade cigars are better, of course, than the machine made ones, but ours is a dying profession.

Machines cannot judge or grade the various tobaccos for flavor and blending, but nevertheless the machines will replace us."

Thing of Past

Even long ago when their children were young Schmidt and Jacoby who for years kept the factory going on Duracome street. Jacoby sold the manufacturing cigars because, he company to Emil Reinke who then sold it to Schmidt 17 years ago.

There are a number of manufacturers in Milwaukee, a few in Green Bay, one in Sheboygan and a few elsewhere in Wisconsin. Schmidt's company was founded by Appletonian Jacoby who for years kept the factory going on Duracome street. Jacoby sold the manufacturing cigars because, he company to Emil Reinke who then sold it to Schmidt 17 years ago.

He buys most of his tobacco from a St. Louis wholesale company. The tobaccos include some pure Havana, some Pennsylvania varieties and the outside wrapper which is shade-grown in Connecticut.

When the cigar is finally wrapped, a special gum from the Tragacanth tree of England is applied to keep the leaves from unwrapping. The gum is tasteless, odorless, invisible and durable. Schmidt's record for speed is 450 cigars in a single day. This, he said, was when he was young. "We used to have races to see who could make the most the fastest. I know of some fellows who can make as many as 600 in a day, he said. But speed is no longer a requisite for the nimble fingers of Schmidt. He can make as many cigars as his customers order and can make them well for he is a fine craftsman of the old cigar. His means of keeping his customers is simple. "Always," he says proudly, "give them a good cigar."

Big Leaguers' Spring Training Opens Earlier

San Francisco's Pitchers Will Report Saturday

By The Associated Press
Spring training for major league baseball players will be a bit different this time. All of the healthy ones, except those doing a 6-months bit in the national defense service and the stubborn holdouts, are expected to be in uniform and working out by Feb. 28. Three teams will have full squads on hand by Feb. 23.

For the last few years the latest reporting date was March 1, but that's changed now because the American and National league seasons open one week sooner.

President Eisenhower probably will throw out the first American league baseball with new league president Joe Cronin's signature on it in Washington where Baltimore takes part in the April 9 inaugural.

Exhibitions Moved Up

In the National league, Cincinnati plays host to Pittsburgh on the same day. On April 10, all teams in both leagues are scheduled to play except Washington and Baltimore. They have the 10th open in case of a rainout on the 9th.

With the season starting earlier than usual, the Florida and Arizona exhibition seasons are moved up. That means earlier reporting dates for the athletes. All teams open their exhibition activity Saturday, March 7.

Several clubs are holding instruction camps for farm team players and untested rookies who could be added to major league rosters before opening day. But the first National league regulars who will report are the San Francisco batterymen.

The Giant hurlers will report Saturday. The complete squad reports at Phoenix Feb. 22.

The Pirates are next in their league. Pittsburgh will have its full squad on hand Feb. 23 at Ft. Myers, Fla. These two clubs are taking steady aim on the champion Milwaukee Braves and figure the early start might help their cause.

Braves' batterymen are due to report Feb. 20, with the full squad assembling Feb. 26.

Report Feb. 18

Washington's Senators have Feb. 18 down for their batterymen at Orlando, Fla., which is the earliest American league training date. The Chicago White Sox will be the first team in the league to have a full squad assembled. Feb. 23 orders to report to Tampa have been sent out by the Pale House.

There are only two major changes in the training camp setup of the four previous springs. The Boston Red Sox and the Baltimore Orioles have traded states, so to speak.

Boston is moving from Sarasota, Fla., to Scottsdale, Ariz., former base of the Orioles. Baltimore will make new headquarters in Miami and replaces the Los Angeles Dodgers as the home team for exhibition games in Miami Stadium.

The Dodgers, a monetary success in their first season in Los Angeles but a flop in the standings, will continue to train at Vero Beach, Fla., but most of their exhibitions will be played at Payne Park, Sarasota where 10 are scheduled.

The world champion New York Yankees have eliminated their instruction school this year but will again use Miller Huggins field, St. Petersburg, Fla., for workouts beginning Feb. 19, and Al Lang field for exhibitions.

Twelve teams will train in Florida, four in Arizona. Pick out the best grip in the attic, mother. The athletes travel by bus for the exhibition games.

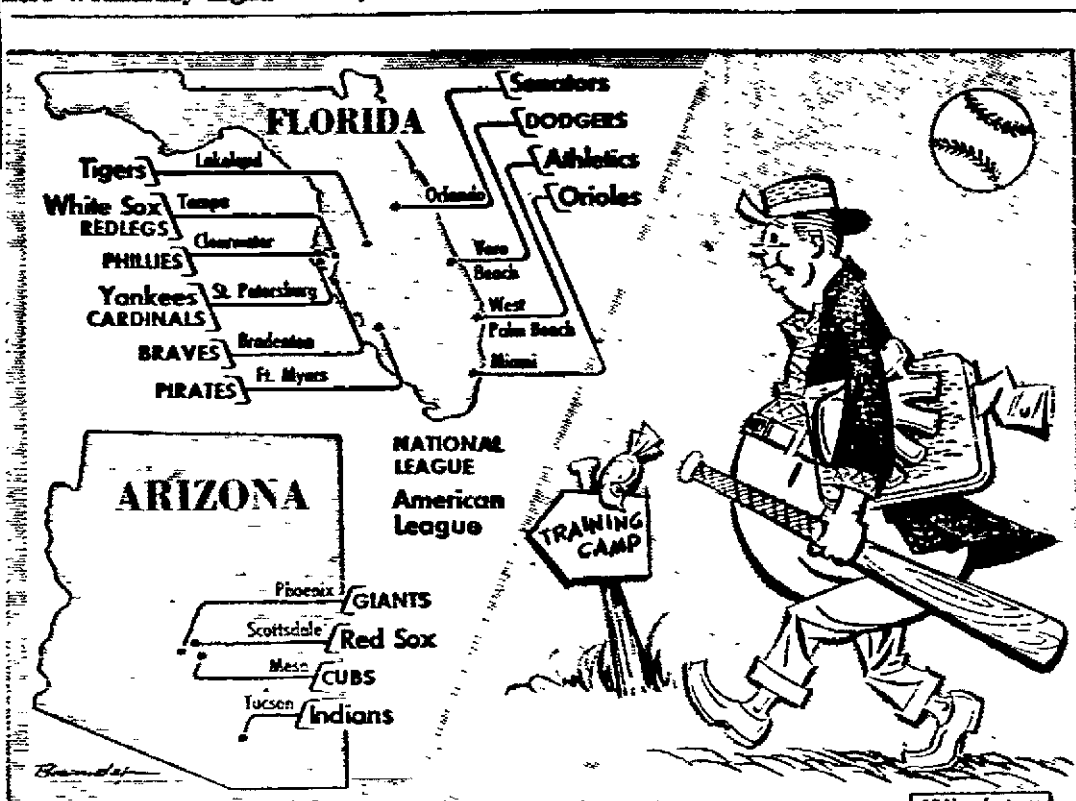

3 Area Prep Cage Tilts Postponed

No definite dates have yet been set for makups of the three Fox Cities area high school basketball games which were postponed Tuesday night because of the inclement weather.

The Bonduel at Gillett and Hilbert at Stockbridge contests may be played next Tuesday. The Shiocton at Fox Valley Lutheran clash may be re-slated for either Saturday or Monday.

UW-M Smothers Beloit, 103-53

Milwaukee —(U)— The University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee basketball team, with Jack Misorski setting the pace, smothered Beloit, 103-53, in a non-conference game here Wednesday night.

This Map, Which Is Enough to turn us snow-plagued Northerners green with envy, shows the 1959 training sites of major league baseball teams. Most of the clubs are already packing their gear for the southward and westward treks.

NOTES and NOTIONS

Carlos "Potato" Pascual seems to be the unofficial high mogul of the Cuban contingent that plays minor league baseball in this country. They look to him for guidance. "Sandy" Valdespino, for example, tossed his bat high in the air in one of his first games with the Missoula, Mont., team last year, and when Manager Jack McKeon called him on it, Valdespino replied, "Potato say it's all right."

McKeon emphasized it wasn't all right with a $10 nick out of "Sandy's" paycheck and told him the next time it happened, he would be fined $25. (Valdespino never did it again.) McKeon declares that he won't condone such conduct in 1959 Fox Cities games, either. In fact, he says he won't put up for long with players who are habitually ejected from games (a rather frequent Foxes' occurrence in '58) because they can't do a team any good sitting on the bench and are harmful to morale.

McKeon relates another incident about Valdespino, a popular little guy despite his low batting average here in '58 and one who may get another chance here this season. When McKeon learned "Sandy" would be transferred to Missoula, he decided to drop slugger "Chuck" Weatherspoon's younger brother, who wasn't hitting too well. As fate would have it, Weatherspoon hit a grand slam homer the night before he was shipped out. When fans learned of the release, they gave McKeon the razzerberies. And, when Valdespino struck out his first four times up, fans' ire made things even more uncomfortable for Jack. But, Valdespino justified McKeon's faith and finally got squared away. Within a week, says McKeon, fans had forgotten all about young Weatherspoon.

Out of McKeon's past comes other evidence that he can handle individual player problems. In 1957, McKeon caught Don Dantoni lobbing the ball from shortstop during practice and even once during a game. He had Dantoni cooling his heels on the bench for a while, threatening to give the regular shortstop job to a utility player. When Dantoni got back in the lineup, he became a ball of fire and later was voted the team's most valuable player.

Then, there was Bill Felker, who pouted because he had to do some running the morning after he had pitched and lost a narrow night-game decision. McKeon made it clear to Felker that he was devoting this extra time for the pitcher's good and not his own and that he'd do his darndest to improve Felker in spite of himself. Well, Felker was convinced, and after that, he came out to the park even on many mornings when he didn't have to. Morning workouts became popular with the players, says McKeon, because it gave them a chance to work on little problems, skills and fine points they wouldn't ordinarily have a chance to brush up on. And, he swears it's true, there were times he had to chase away some of the boys who came out on their own so he could concentrate on some group or individual.

It's possible Menasha's Ron Dibelius may give up switch-hitting. McKeon believes he's a better-looking hitter right-handed. Dibelius also seemed to develop more confidence right-handed, and during the late weeks of the '58 season at Missoula, Ron deserted the portside completely. Though McKeon feels that Dibelius has the potential to make good at third base or in the outfield, he would recommend that Ron turn to pitching in the

Brown, Busso Meet For Title Tonight

Joe Makes 6th Defense In TV Bout

Houston, Texas —(U)— Explosive Joe Brown dares young Johnny Busso of New York to knock off his world's lightweight crown tonight. Johnny says he's just the guy to do it, too.

That sums up Houston's third title fight in nine months. There may be 10,000 out to see if aging Joe still has the durability to ward off youth's charge.

Brown, 33, a campaigner for 13 years, meets a fellow who's been in the game less than half that long.

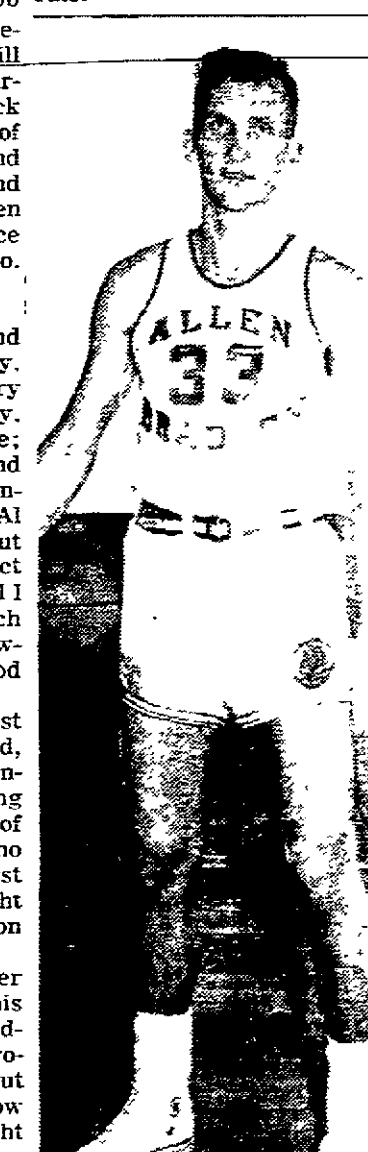

The slim little guy from Baton Rouge, La., battles Busso over the 15-round route starting at 9 p.m. (CST) with all the country except Houston able to see it on ABC television.

$40,000 in Till
There was $40,000 in the till at the close of business Tuesday night and Texas Boxing Enterprises, promoters of the bout, think at least $20,000 should come in today. If so total receipts will be about $100,000 since television is paying $40,000. That means Brown will take $40,000 and Busso $20,000.

Busso is confident he can wreck the Brown dynasty because he beat the champion in an overweight fight in Miami in November. That one was only 10 rounds and Brown says if it had gone 15 he would have won. Busso counters that the longer it went the more decisively he would have won since he is stronger and younger. Johnny is only 24.

Brown's manager, Lou Viscusi, isn't sure Busso won't be weakened by having to take off weight for this fight since he thinks Busso is a "large lightweight" anyway. "The guy's dimensions look like a welter," said Viscusi.

Brown will be making his sixth title defense since beating Wallace "Bud" Smith for the bauble in 1956. He has won four of those by knock-outs.

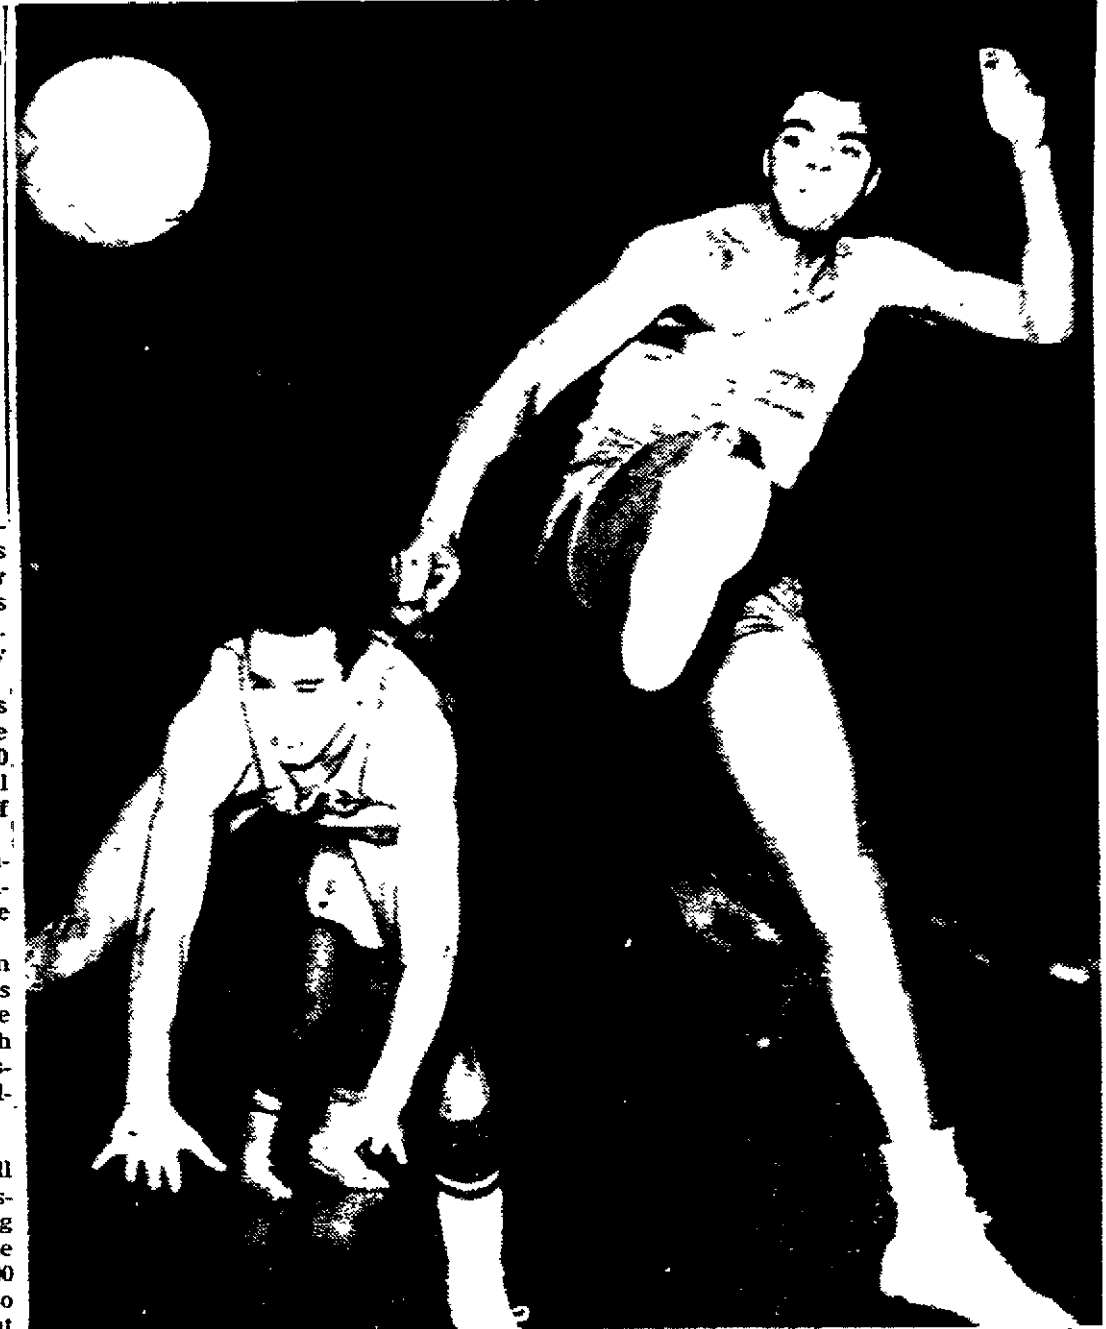

Rube Schulz, former Marquette star, will be in the Allen-Bradley lineup Thursday night when the Milwaukee team meets the Kaukauna Athletic club in a hospital benefit game in the Kaukauna gym. Schulz was a member of the 1954-55 MU team that won 22 straight games — the all-time school record.

Clark Named Bobcats' New General Manager

Veteran Has More Than 20 Years in Hockey Management

BY LEE REMMEL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Green Bay—Versatile Donald M. Clark, a national hockey figure who doubles as historian for the world's fastest sport, is the new general manager of the Green Bay Bobcats.

The 42-year-old native of Farmington, Minn. vice president of the Amateur Hockey association of the United States and veteran of more than 20 years in hockey administration, succeeds James C. Gallagher, who resigned Jan. 31.

Clark, who served as manager of the 1957-8 United States National team, will be introduced to area and state press, radio and television representatives tonight.

Not 1st Appearance
It will not, however, be the new Bobcat GW's first Green Bay appearance. He was here the weekend of Jan. 24-25 for the Bobcats' series with the Warroad Lakers and, pleased with what he saw, subsequently awarded the 1959 National Senior-U. S. hockey championships to Green Bay. They, incidentally, will be staged at the arena March 20-21-22.

The Midwest's "Mr. Hockey," Clark has been:

(1) Vice president of the National association for the last three years;

(2) A member of the International Ice Hockey committee which annually selects managers and coaches for the United States nationals and Olympic teams for the last six years; and

(3) President or secretary-treasurer of the Minnesota Amateur Hockey association, largest in the nation, for the last 10 years.

Clark, who has been assistant manager of Minnesota's second largest milk plant at Farmington also is a member of the Olympic Ice Hockey committee which presently is making plans for the 1960 winter olympics.

Born in North Dakota but reared at Fairbault, Minn., Clark is a graduate of the University of Minnesota.

Neenah — Kimberly plays at winless New London Friday night as it attempts to take another step along the road to the Mid-Eastern conference basketball title.

The Two Rivers is at Neenah in the only game matching first division occupants. In other tangles, Kaukauna goes to Clintonville and Menasha plays at Shawano.

Menasha will be at Kaukauna next Tuesday. The circuit has a back-to-back weekend on Feb. 20-21 and the Ghosts and Jays are playing their Saturday game several days earlier.

Could Gain Tie
Kimberly could sew up a share of the championship through the combination of a win over New London and a win over Shawano.

Every team except the unbeaten Papermakers would have three defeats then with three games remaining on the schedule.

Comiskey Blasts Veeck and Rigney

'Chuck' Suffers a Slight Setback in Probate Court

Chicago — "Chuck" Comiskey, suffering a slight setback in probate court Tuesday, criticized the parties involved in the upcoming sale of the Chicago White Sox. Comiskey, a co-vice president of the team along with his brother-in-law John Rigney, criticized Rigney and prospective buyer Bill Veeck. He took aim at Rigney and his sister Dorothy for vacationing in Florida "when certain matters concerning the club have to be decided every day."

Veeck was the subject of criticism for "making changes in the organization" without owning a single share of stock.

Comiskey's outburst came during Probate Judge Robert Jerome Dunne's denial of a motion by Comiskey's attorneys that Dorothy be restrained from distributing stock to her brother-in-law. Rigney, who is now 11-1 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, Duke is 5-6.

Missouri broke the longest losing streak in its history by turning back Oklahoma State, 51-44.

Comes From Behind

George Washington came from behind a 7-point halftime deficit, tied the score with 53 seconds remaining and defeated Maryland in overtime, 66-65. Bill Telasky's jump shot got George Washington even in regulation time. Then Bucky McDonald took over, scoring eight of the Colonials' nine points in the extra period.

Don Hennon, who has a 27.2 points average for 20 games, had 26 to lead Pittsburgh to a 76-65 victory over Carnegie Tech; Davidson beat Winless (10-12) Washington and Lee, 34-33, in overtime; Boston University used a fast break to defeat Connecticut for the first time in 24 years. 67-55, and St. Francis (N.Y.) defeated Seton Hall, 67-58.

Lakers, Royals Play in 'Frisco

Minneapolis Beats Cincinnati, 118-100, In Houston Clash

San Francisco — The National Basketball association takes another look at the West coast interest tonight when the Minneapolis Lakers play the Cincinnati Royals at the Cow Palace.

The NBA is mulling proposals to move a couple of teams to the West, or to expand and place teams in the West and Southwest.

In the first western NBA game last month, 13,652 fans saw the Boston Celtics whip the Lakers, 109-106, in overtime. The lure for that one, White Sox out of Chicago, however, was not only the great Bob Cousy, but ex-San Francisco stars Bill Russell and K. C. Jones. All three are with Boston.

A preliminary game between the Minneapolis Lakers and the San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Rams football teams should help the game.

Vern Mikkelsen led the Lakers to a 118-100 victory over Cincinnati in their Houston affair with a career high of 43 points. It was the only NBA game.

St. Louis was scheduled at Detroit but bad weather forced down its plane at Harrisburg, Pa.

Bob Kositzke Rolls 593; Ted Heinritz Slaps 591 Trio

Bob Kositzke blasted a 593 for Behnke's Clothes when the Appleton Lutheran league bowled earlier this week. Norm Pope hit a 236 for Jenke Oil and finished with a 589. Alko Super Market (39-30) leads the league by one game.

Ted Heinritz smashed a 591 for Hueseman Insurance in the Brotherhood wheel at Hahn's. Heinritz Sheet Metal (46-23) leads the league by two games.

Other Lutheran league honorees: Earl Joecks, 227; Werner Stranghoener, 559. In the Brotherhood circuit: Wally Moore, 572; Floyd Jahnke, 558.

Yanks to Install Huge Scoreboard

New York — The New York Yankees will install a $300,000 scoreboard at Yankee stadium in time for the 1959 season opener. The board will be 113 feet wide and 45 feet high, all controlled electronically and convertible to football.

There will be a changeable message area of seven lines with eight letters to the line at the bottom of a 75-foot center tower. Information can be flashed from the press box to the fans at a moment's notice.

Learn Importance of Proper Care Attire

By the Associated Press

OSWEGO, N. Y. — A blue, striped, red-trimmed Rochester team, wearing the importance of proper attire Tuesday night. Before the start of the game against Oswego Teachers, the referee called a technical foul against the visitors for wearing what he termed illegal shirts. Both the numbers and the color of the shirts were blue.

Rochester changed its shirts. Oswego sank the free throw. It turned out to be the winning margin. Final score, Oswego 58, Rochester 57.

3 First-Stringers Kicked Off

Spokane — Jean Claude (7-foot-3) Lefebvre yielded to last minute "we need you" pleas from teammates Tuesday and agreed to stay at Gonzaga university after three first-stringers were kicked off the squad.

Lefebvre, tallest collegian in American basketball, withdrew from Gonzaga Monday, packed his bags, said his farewells and made reservations on a plane for his native France.

He said he was homesick, emotionally upset and had a feeling the first team rejected him because he got so much publicity and didn't score as much as people thought he should.

den's record-breaking 46 points that was before New London dropped players from its squad.

Two Rivers and Neenah will try to rebound from last week's losses to Kimberly and Kaukauna, respectively.

A victory would put the Rockets in a tie for third place.

Jays Break Skein

Both teams are still mathematically in the title race but it would take a lot of doing to overtake Kimberly. Two Rivers came out on the long end of a 68-55 win in the first meeting.

Menasha broke its losing string at the expense of New London last week while Shawano gained undisputed possession of second with a triumph over Clintonville. The Jays gave the league champions a battle before dropping a 52-47 test in the first game.

The Kaukauna-Clintonville fray shapes up as another good match. The Ghosts, in besting Neenah last week, came back well from their trouncing to Two Rivers. Kaukauna won the first game 76-54, in a test which was played before the Truckers lost their cagers through disciplinary measures.

McKeon deserves a lot of credit for taking time off for this voluntary pre-season visit. Economically, it represents a sacrifice, too, since he not only loses a week's salary as a salesman but is giving up several basketball officiating assignments.

Foxes Business Manager Bob Willis, who also toots a lot of whistles during the basketball season, nipped a little rebellion in the bud at the recent Lawrence-Coe game. Irked by a decision, Coe Coach Bill Fitch confronted Willis with, "How about some impartial calls? I know you're from Appleton." Willis shot back, "That's a technical on you, and the next time you question my integrity or even hint at it, you won't be in the gym to see the rest of the game." Not another squawk. After the game, a cooled-off Fitch commended Willis for his handling of the incident.

At the recent Three-I league meeting in Des Moines, the Des Moines business manager raved about an outstanding infield the team has lined up for '59. He said he feels so confident about the club that he's tempted to give season ticket buyers the chance to get their money back if the Demons don't finish in the first division. There's no word yet on whether he's going through with that bold guarantee.

Hickey Feels Loss Might Help Warriors

Expecting Casualties To Be Ready for Louisville Five

Milwaukee — Coach Eddie Hickey believes that DePaul's 89-80 upset victory over his high-flying Marquette basketball team Monday night "may make us a much better ball club."

"The boys found out they've got to hustle all the way and never let up," he said Tuesday in reviewing the defeat that ended the eleventh-ranked Warriors' 15-game winning streak.

Took Loss Hard

"We'll need this attitude with the tough ones on the road coming up," he continued. "The boys took the loss extremely hard, judging by their attitude after the game and it's refreshing to know they realized they didn't play their best."

"I'm most fearful of them not recovering enough for the big game with Louisville," Hickey expects his major casualties — Walt Mangham, Don Kojis and big Mike Moran — to be in good enough shape to play at Louisville.

Mangham and Moran sat out Tuesday's abbreviated workout, Mangham with a bruised big toe and Moran with a split finger on his right hand.

Kojis Rests

Kojis, who injured an ankle against Loyola Saturday night, couldn't go at top speed either and took a rest. Both of the Warriors' two losses in 19 games came on the road and no one needs remind Hickey that five of their remaining seven games will be away from the friendly confines of the Arena.

He still hasn't completely recovered from the 5-minute coma that engulfed his charges Monday night. Durlin's stretch DePaul ran up the 15 consecutive points. There went the ball game, to all intents and purposes.

Missouri Halts Loss Streak At 11 Straight

By the Associated Press

Big Bob Ayersman of Virginia Tech has pushed his way in among the top four college basketball scoring leaders while helping produce a threat to West Virginia's domination of the Southern conference.

The 6-4 sophomore from Boomer, W. Va., scored 47 points Tuesday night to lead Virginia Tech to a 104-66 victory over Richmond.

Do Not Meet

The victory gave Virginia Tech an 8-2 record in the conference.

West Virginia, which has won 44 straight league games, again leads with 8-0. Through a quirk in the schedule, the top two teams will not meet during the regular season. But the powerful Mountaineers, ranked ninth nationally, may have to go against the aroused Gobblers in the Southern conference championship tournament which determines which team will play in the NCAA competition.

Ayersman's performance, the 80-72 victory by sixth-ranked North Carolina State over Duke and the end of Missouri's losing streak at 11

Chuters Play Last League Tilt Thursday

Try for .500 Record Against St. Norbert High

Little Chute — St. John High will try for a .500 record when it plays its final Fox Valley Catholic conference game of the season at St. Norbert DePere Thursday night.

Currently the Dutchmen have a 4-5 mark and have won two league games in a row.

Early in the season the Chuters tripped St. Norbert 64 to 62 in a thriller here. St. John had built up a big lead and then had to hang on to preserve the win in the final period.

Using a fast break to good advantage St. John has scored wins over St. Mary's Springs of Fond du Lac and Marinette Catholic Central. The win over Springs was one of the top upsets in the league this season. It was only Springs second loss in 16 games this season.

Two non-conference games remain on the schedule for the Chuters after Thursday. On Saturday night St. John travels to Wausau for a tilt with Newman High and Feb. 21 they close out the season at Pacelli Stevens Point.

Change Times For Cage Tilts

Little Chute — Games in the Village Basketball league will begin late tonight because of Ash Wednesday services at the parish church.

The first contest will be at 8:30 p. m. with Gene's Bar meeting Joe's Recreation. The second tilt will be at 9:30 p. m. with Cease's DX Service meeting Fitzpatrick Insurance.

Why Old Crow should be your bourbon

The day James Crow's bourbon appeared, 124 years ago in Kentucky, real bourbon was made for the first time. The people and the leading figures of the era instantly knew it.

HENRY CLAY ordered Old Crow for his home. DANIEL WEBSTER called Old Crow "the finest in the world." It towered over the hit-and-miss bourbons of its day.

Today, although there are now hundreds of other bourbons on the market, Kentucky's Old Crow is still by far America's favorite.

Why? Because this is the perfect formula for bourbon. You can taste its inborn Kentucky mellowness, its surprising lightness, its clean flavor. Others can come close to it, but the inimitable, authentic bourbon stamp of Old Crow makes it the master today as it was the day it first appeared to delight the world. Have you tried it?

Taste the greatness of ...

John F. Heuvelmans, 2000 E. Candee street, plowed through hub-cap-high water on E. South River street late Tuesday afternoon despite the snowy cold. The reason for the flood was a broken water main near the Institute of Paper Chemistry. The water department spent all night trying to find the break and early this morning had succeeded only in uncovering a second break on the line. Minor service breaks were reported at four other locations.

KHS Frosh Cagers to Wind Up Home Season Thursday

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna High school frosh cagers will close out the 1958-59 home season at 4 p.m. Thursday entertaining Wilson Junior high of Appleton.

The Junior Ghosts have a record of three wins and five defeats while Wilson has one win and seven defeats. In the first meeting between the teams Kaukauna took a 34-22 decision, winning from the free throw stripe as both teams made only eight field goals.

Kaukauna has shown increased scoring potential in recent contests and came within a whisker of upsetting

Roosevelt, second place team, two weeks ago. Coach Guy Krumm indicated he may give more boys a chance to play Thursday as many will be winding up their home high school cage careers.

Jerry Spaulding hit 17 points for Kaukauna in the first meeting between the schools and he with Dick Skibba, John Robedeaux, Ed Vanden Heuvel, Bill Lambie and Dan Tease are probable starters.

The invaders will counter with Howard Cohodas, Dave Hem, Bob Paessler, John Kadling and Wayne Trindrud. The Junior Ghosts will play two more games, one a non-conference test, before winding up the campaign.

KAC Cage Unit To Meet Strong Milwaukee '5'

Allen-Bradley Will Invade KHS Gym for Hospital Benefit

Kaukauna — One of the outstanding industrial basketball teams in the state will invade the Kaukauna High school gym at 8:15 p.m. Thursday to tangle with the Kaukauna Athletic club crew in a benefit tilt for the Kaukauna Community hospital auxiliary.

Members of the auxiliary have been selling tickets for a week and will also have charge of ticket sales at the door. Invading Kaukauna will be the Allen-Bradley quintet of Milwaukee featuring eight outstanding college players and two boys who ranked high in high school cage circles in the Milwaukee conference.

The local team lost two regulars due to injuries and has added outstanding players from the area to fill the gap. Added to the Athletic club problems will be the loss of two players at the start of the third quarter due to previous plans.

Local Record

Athletic club cagers have played four games this year, winning three and dropping one to a traveling All-Star unit from Kansas City. The team is made up of better players from the City league and area youths who made good showings in college circles.

Dick Mulry and Roger VanderWyst are the two locals on the injured list and they will be replaced by Dick Verbeten and Lee Neveer of Kimberly. Both give Kaukauna added height and a boost in the scoring department. The team will need the height as the invaders can field a team averaging 6 feet 7 inches.

A preliminary game has been set for 7:15 p.m. matching the Outagamie County Teachers college girls' team against a girl squad from Algoma.

Kaukauna besides the two Kimberly youths will have Pat Caspersen, Gerry Hopfensperger, Ken Roloff, Gene Ploetz, Don Lemke, Jim Rausch and Jim Walsh in the lineup. Caspersen and Roloff are the men leaving at the start of the third frame.

Heading the list of invaders are Roger Hanson, 6-foot, 11-inch center, who played college ball for Eau Claire State Teachers, and Ruben Schulz, former Marquette star. The team has won 19 and lost one this season.

YMCA Golf Classes To Begin March 10

Officer Much Qualified, Alcorn Vetoes New Job

Also Thinks Injustice Done in Case
Of Henry Labouisse, Government Post

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

Washington — Henry Labouisse is a genial, unassuming, deceptively ordinary-seeming man who belongs to a very special category — the category of Americans to whom every citizen of this Republic ought to feel personally indebted.

Alsop

In the earliest stages of his career, in the foreign service, and for a time in the foreign aid administration, he turned in a most notable performance. But it was not this which created the debt each of us owes to him. The debt began to be incurred when Labouisse accepted one of the most difficult and heart-rending posts in the world today, the directorship of the United Nations Relief agency for the tragic Arab refugees from Palestine.

There was no need for Labouisse to leave everything friendly and familiar, and go to the Middle East with his beautiful and brilliant wife, the former Eve Curie. By any ordinary standard, the appointment Labouisse accepted was both repellent and terrifying.

Dangerous Task

When Henry Labouisse took over, it was physically dangerous for the U. N. personnel to enter some of the refugee camps. As an American, a representative of the nation held responsible for sponsoring the Palestine partition, Labouisse was under extra suspicion. Yet by tact and humor and cool courage, by wonderful improvising from small resources, by model administration under the worst conditions, and above all, by back-breaking, unending, grueling hard work, Labouisse won the day. Such, then, was the achievement of Henry Labouisse when he came home at last some months ago. Such, then, was the man whom Deputy Sec. of State Douglas Dillon requested to take over the International Cooperation administration, when Dillon learned the foreign aid job was about to be vacated by James H. Smith. The foreign aid job is notoriously the hardest major post to fill in the government today; and it was something of a sacrifice on Labouisse's part to agree to leave his well-earned retirement for this new post. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the whole state department high command were enthusiastic for the appointment. Labouisse's name went to the White House with the highest recommendations.

Alcorn Vetoes

At the White House, however, the nomination ran head-on, into the peculiar situation created by President Eisenhower's positive detestation of the Republican as leader of the party of the most difficult and heart-rending posts in the world today, the directorship of the United Nations Relief agency for the tragic Arab refugees from Palestine.

Alcorn's files of job-seekers of course contain no remotely suitable candidate for the foreign aid job. A score of men were begged to take the job and refused it, before James H. Smith was finally induced to serve. And above all officials, the foreign aid chief needs to enjoy bipartisan confidence on Capitol hill. Despite these important considerations, Alcorn furiously vetoed the Labouisse appointment on the sole ground that the wholly a-political Labouisse was not a Republican. The president, despite his unending, grueling hard work, repeatedly professed enthusiasm for the foreign aid program. has been too remoted from the struggle, too little interested in the problem months ago. Such, then, was the man whom Deputy Sec. of State Douglas Dillon requested to take over the International Cooperation administration, when Dillon

No Injuries Reported in Car-Truck Crash

Children — No injuries were reported in a car-truck collision which occurred about 2:30 a.m. Monday on Highway 57 at the south village limits of Hilbert.

The accident happened when Raymond N. Seidl, 18, route 4, Appleton, began a left turn off the highway as Harvey T. Rodd, 54, Green Bay, driving an Olson Transfer company truck, started to pass the car.

Damage to the automobile, which is owned by Joseph A.

man recruited from Republican ranks, it seems a little odd to see the Eisenhower crusaders enforcing the crude rules of old-fashioned pork-and-patronage politics, with certain detriment to the public service of the United States.

(Copyright 1959)

Wittmann, route 4, Appleton, was estimated at $450.

Robert Bolder, 44, Chilton, escaped injury when his car collided with a Milwaukee Road passenger train as he drove home from work about 6 p.m. Friday.

Bolder attempted to stop the car when he saw the train approaching the Breed street crossing, but because of icy road conditions he could not bring the vehicle to a complete halt and slid into the train.

The front end of the car was extensively damaged.

The city has requested signals for this crossing but to date no approval has been received.

If Anyone Still Can Appreciate it after shoveling sidewalks and grinding through clogged streets in Tuesday's avalanche of snow, winter is a time of beauty. The pattern of the mooring dock in Riverside park of Neenah, the tracks in the snow and the background of river shrouded trees caught the eye of a photographer. Pretty, isn't it? . . . When it isn't piled on your sidewalk.

1960 'Too Optimistic'

Must Select Site Before Junior High Plans Continue; Board Told

Neenah — Selection of a site must be made before planning about 55,000 to 60,000 square feet of which about 42,000 can continue, board of education members were advised Tuesday by Fred Kramer of the architectural firm of Perkins and Will, Chicago, designers of the new $926,000 junior high school.

A meeting is being sought with city officials to determine the junior high school location. The school board has proposed one site which must be purchased and has rejected the use of the recreation field south of the high school for the junior high school location.

Kramer pointed out that a September of 1960 opening date for the junior high school was "much too optimistic" and he urged selection of the site within a month so that the planning could continue.

He estimated the construction cost for a 750-pupil building at $800,000. Development of the site, such as leveling the ground, landscaping and sidewalks and driveways will run about $22,000 and the equipment cost was figured by the architect at $41,625. Added to these to make up the $856,625 cost for the school is a $25,000 contingency allowance and $18,000 in architects' fees.

Two Grades Only

The new junior high school would be for just the seventh and eighth grades as recommended by the citizens advisory committee. The 750 enrollment is expected by 1970 while the present enrollment for the two grades is 422.

No official approval has been given to the architect's plans which were in the nature of a tentative progress report.

The new junior high school, according to the present thinking, would contain 17 classrooms plus a room for mentally handicapped pupils, a library, a business education area, two home economics rooms, two industrial arts rooms, library, music rooms, a combination cafeteria and auditorium which could be used for a study hall, a study hall, gymnasium, health room, offices and boiler room, making a total of 30 rooms.

The gym will be acoustical, treated and used for large assemblies. It will have bleachers or provide for seating 500 at the start with expansion to 750 capacity later. Petersen, all of Fresno, Calif. The building will encompass and three grandchildren.

15 Months to Build

Kramer estimated it would take about 15 months to complete the structure after construction began.

All present and future needs for junior high school pupils were considered in the programming. Kramer referred to one room as a "cafeteria" since it will be used for study hall during the day, a cafeteria at noon and an auditorium with a stage for small group meetings. The gymnasium also will have a portable stage for larger assemblies. There will be no separate auditorium in the junior high school.

There will be a minimum of built-ins to permit flexibility in the school program. Other facilities included in the school will be an arts and crafts room, a visual aids room and music rooms for vocal, band and orchestra.

Kimberly Remodeling

Board members also instructed their president, Paul Groth, to contact city officials regarding the financing of changes to the present Kimberly Junior High school to make the building a safer structure in line with state industrial commission recommendations.

The board would like to secure an architect to prepare the plans for the changes so that bids can be obtained. The board wants to begin this project as soon as school dismisses for the summer because it entails closing off one entrance and taking out the center stairways from the first to second floors.

The closing of the entrance will be only for the construction period. Completion of the work is hoped for by the time school resumes in September.

Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes was authorized to attend the American Association of School Administrators meeting at Atlantic City, N. J., next week and his salary totaling $83,693 were ordered paid.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Nellie Pope, treated and used for large assemblies. It will have bleachers or provide for seating 500 at the start with expansion to 750 capacity later. Petersen, all of Fresno, Calif. The building will encompass and three grandchildren.

Small Increase In Employment; Slightly Below '58

Increase Reverses Mid-Winter Trend; Manufacturing Up

Neenah — A favorable outlook was placed on the employment picture in the Twin Cities by A. P. Engebretson, manager of the state employment service office here, today as he pointed to a small increase in employment compared with a year ago when a further decline was expected at this period.

Total employment in the 43 establishments reporting labor market information to the state employment office changed very little from mid-November to mid-January with only a gain of 30 workers reported.

"While this gain is very slight and not in itself especially significant, it is, however, encouraging in view of the fact that this is normally a slow time. A year ago a drop of 100 was reported during the same period," Engebretson said.

"One unusual aspect of the changes reported was that trades and service showed a slight gain during a period when those industries normally show a decline following the Christmas holiday shopping season. Manufacturing also reversed a trend in the last several months and showed a small increase in employment."

11,400 Employment

The employment office manager said the current total employment of 11,439 was only 20 below January of 1958.

In spite of a slight improvement in the general situation, the demand for workers during the last two months continued low. Turnover due to voluntary separations had been negligible and, of course he said, the increase in employment very slight.

The employment office received 249 job opening requests in December and January as compared with 271 in October and November, exclusive of agricultural, short-term and domestic employment. The demand does not

Canned Peas, One of Best Food Buys, Can be Used in Casserole Dishes, Salads

Oshkosh — Canned peas are one of the best food buys this season with nearly 40 per cent of all canned peas in the nation grown and processed in Wisconsin, says Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent.

Homemakers should read the labels carefully before making a selection. One can buy whole peas, packed in liquid, peas and carrots or mixed vegetables. You can buy the early peas, described as early, June, or early June sweet or sugar might be labeled as sweet, sweet wrinkled or sugar.

If you wish to use peas for a casserole dish, select a medium to large size. If you wish to serve peas as a separate vegetable dish, select the slightly higher priced, smaller sized peas.

For variety in serving the vegetable, sprinkle grated cheese over buttered peas, or crisp, chopped bacon finely chopped green onion and pimiento or chopped peanuts.

Peas in a cream sauce can be varied too, such as creamed tuna and peas, or salmon, fish fillets, codfish, left-over chicken or turkey. Adding canned peas with cheddar cheese cubes makes a nice salad to serve with tomato soup.

Tuna Salad

The recipe for crunchy tuna salad calls for one-fourth cup mayonnaise, two tablespoons diced sweet pickle, one cup canned tuna, one tablespoon pickle juice, three hard-cooked eggs one-half cup celery, one half cup chilled cooked or canned peas, one cup coarsely crushed potato or corn chips. Toss mayonnaise with pickle, pickle juice, tuna, celery and peas. Add chips and sliced eggs. Serve at once on greens.

For a pork chop casserole, the ingredients are one can condensed cream of chicken soup, one can peas, four one-half inch thick pork chops, salt, pepper and two bay leaves.

Combine the soup and drained peas in a baking dish. Season pork chops with salt and pepper and arrange on top of peas placing a half bay leaf under each chop. Bake covered in a slow oven, about 325 degrees, for 45 minutes. Uncover and continue to bake about 15 minutes until the chops are brown.

Russian Fluff

Russian Fluff is made with one can peas, one can tomato soup, one pound chopped beef one onion, one cup diced raw potato, one bay leaf, salt and pepper. Mix all ingredients together and bake until potatoes are done about one to one and one-half hours at 375 degrees.

Another casserole dish requiring peas is made with one pound cubed pork and veal or pork and beef, one onion one bunch of celery cut fine, one can peas including liquid, one package noodles, one can cream of mushroom soup and one small can mushrooms.

Brown meat, then add onion, celery and remainder of ingredients. Bake one-half hour with cover and then one-half hour longer without cover.

Winner of the 1959 Daughters of the American Revolution award at Winneconne High school is Janet Wiesner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wiesner, route 2, Omro. She was selected on the basis of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Agent Suggests Way to Revive Dull Furniture

Oshkosh — If your varnished furniture has a dull, cloudy look, you may be able to restore it with linseed oil and gum turpentine, suggests Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent.

Cloudiness caused by poor quality varnish cannot be removed without removing the varnish. If a finish has been dulled by smoke, dust and grease, then linseed oil and turpentine should revive it.

Clean the varnished surface one section at a time, with one teaspoon gum turpentine and three teaspoons boiled linseed oil and one cup hot water.

Rub on with a soft cloth, then wipe with a clean cloth wrung out of warm water. Follow by rubbing with a dry cloth. You can then revive the finish with a soft cloth dipped in equal parts of raw linseed oil and turpentine. Apply lightly. Wipe off with a dry cloth and the cloudiness should be gone. Be sure you have boiled linseed oil for cleaning and raw linseed oil for that final rub down.

It's Time They Did Something for The Pitcher, Dave Koslo Declares

BY RANDY HAASE
Post-Crescent
Neenah-Menasha City Editor

Menasha — It's time they did something for the pitcher in baseball.

Admittedly the statement might be a little prejudiced for it comes from a man who had a long and successful career in the major leagues as a hurler — Menasha's dandy Dave Koslo. But it is an opinion that is held by many other baseball men and many fans who would like to see the return of 1-0 games and tight pitching duels rather than to see runs come streaming across home plate in bunches like grapes.

92-106 Record

The Menasha lefty has plenty of baseball background: to speak authoritatively. He put in 11 seasons in the major leagues, not counting a span of three years in military service right when he broke into the big leagues. He compiled a record of 92 wins and 106 losses and 10 of his 11 years were with the then New York Giants. In a good share of those years the Giants weren't exactly setting the National League afire. The Giants were in the league all right but they frequently were in the second division.

"There's no strike zone left anymore," Dave comments. "They're squatting on home plate and hitting off their knees. It's a lively ball and they've shortened the fences. They aren't shortening the distance from the mound to the plate."

And what to do to aid the pitcher? Well, Dave would like to see the spitball legalized again. And widening the plate would give the pitcher a bigger target.

Names & Players

Bill Rigney, manager of the San Francisco Giants in a copyrighted article in "Parade," a Sunday newspaper magazine supplement, named eight players who he is convinced have thrown the spitball during the past few years and Koslo was included on the list.

Rigney played with Koslo for eight years but said that never once did the pitcher ever talk about the spitball — with the manager, the catcher or anyone else on the club.

When questioned, Dave didn't say he did and he didn't say he didn't — he only said, "They all try it."

Dangerous Pitch

The pitch was legal some 40 years ago but was outlawed — possibly because it was considered a dangerous pitch and hard to control. It looks like a fast curve but it breaks down suddenly as it reaches the plate. With wearing of protective helmets compulsory the danger of an errant pitch to the hitter isn't as great. Both Rigney and Koslo would like to see the pitch legalized again.

It was just over two years ago that the Menasha lefty suffered a slight stroke and was hospitalized for an extended period. He has recovered completely and is working daily at the George Banta company Midway plant. However the former pitching star would like to get back into baseball. He attended the winter meeting renewing contracts but it is difficult to get back in again after having been out for several years.

Best E.R.A. in Majors

Koslo certainly has the experience which should make him of value as a baseball scout or coach. In 1949 he posted a 2.50 earned run average in 212 innings, topping all hurlers in both leagues. In 1944 he posted 121 strikeouts one of the league highs. He had a 15-10 record in 1947 his personal high in major league victories.

Probably his top moment of glory was a 5-1 victory over the New York Yankees in the opening game of the 1951 World series. The Giants, however, lost the series and Dave was handed a loss for a 1-1 series record. In 15 innings of series play he fanned six, walked seven and gave up 12 hits.

He broke into organized ball in 1939 in the Kitty league after starring with the Menasha Falcons in the state semi-pro tournament at Milwaukee. In 1940 he had a 17-9 record in the Kitty league and whiffed again. Timmy, the Koslo son 246. He moved up to the Milwaukee Brewers in the American association in 1941, had a 13-13 record and was sold to the Giants that fall. His playing career ended in Milwaukee, then the home of the Milwaukee Braves, when he was released before the start of the 1955 season.

He had been sold by the Giants in 1954 to Baltimore, was released in May of that year with an 0-1 American league record and then was signed usually talking about their hitting ability?

He's not a lefty — the Koslo daughter, Roseanne, a Menasha High school sophomore is that. Dave reports that the boy is more interested in hitting than in shagging the ball. Maybe he'll be a pitcher too. Aren't most pitchers released before the start of the 1955 season?

Considers Bill On Offenders in Juvenile Court

Assemblyman Cane
Would Permit Papers
To Public Names

Menasha — Introduction of a bill to permit newspapers to publish the names of juvenile offenders where the offenses they commit would have been crimes under the criminal law is being considered by Assemblyman Arnold J. Cane.

The Menasha assemblyman was a member of the child welfare committee in 1954-55 and this committee recommended a further evaluation of the question of publishing the names of juvenile offenders.

Cane indicated he wants to review this idea with proponents and opponents of the proposed change to see if there is an area of agreement.

During the previous legislative session Cane was chairman of the assembly judiciary committee which made him a member of the judicial council which has been studying a court reorganization plan for the state. The 15-member council includes a supreme court justice, circuit judge, a county judge, two law school teachers, the president-elect of the Wisconsin Bar association, a member of the attorney general's staff, state bar representatives, legislators and public members appointed by the governor.

Justices of Peace Under consideration by this council has been to sharply curtail jurisdiction of the justices of the peace or to abolish them altogether, provide uniformity of procedure in the courts of all counties, have judicial salaries set by the state rather than by counties, eliminate part-time judges and those on a fee basis and to equalize the work load of the judges.

Cane cited as reasons for the court reorganization the multiplicity of courts with varying jurisdiction and procedures, the disparity in judges' salaries for the same work, the low compensation for many judges, part-time judges who practice law against attorneys who appear in their courts and great variations in availability of judicial service in various counties.

The suggested reorganization plan is being made ready for presentation to the state legislature and will not, as in the case of a previous plan which was defeated, embody any change in the state constitution.

6 NHS Pupils High in Tests

Neenah — Six Neenah High school students were named for letters of commendation by the National Merit Scholarship corporation as the result of their being among the top 2 to 3 per cent of the 478,000 students in 14,600 high schools throughout the country.

They are Roger Zimmerman, Susan Frakes, David Loynd, Roger Oehlke, Marguerite Munsche, and Helen Loehning.

They were runners-up in the national merit scholarships for which the finalists will be named about May 1, according to information received by Principal H. O. Borgen of Neenah High school.

NHS Debaters to Compete Saturday In Sectional Meet

Neenah — Varsity debaters will compete Saturday at Stevens Point State college in the sectional high school debate tournament in their bid to go on to the state tournament.

At last four wins against two losses are needed in Saturday's tournament to move on to the state.

The B debaters tied for fourth place in the Kaukauna tournament Saturday while the C team tied for second.

In the B team contest the negative squad of Bob Bredendick and Bill Shockley lost to two Kaukauna teams and to Kewaunee while the affirmative team of Dottie Germuga and Rita Buck won from Seymour and Kaukauna but lost to Green Bay West.

In the C team competition the team of Marianne Mueller and Dagmar Jaehnnig defeated Kaukauna and Kewaunee but the team of Mike Blume and Cheryl Stancher lost to Kaukauna. Victories over Two Rivers and Seymour were scored by the team of Jim Hedlund and Dick Thorpe but they lost to Green Bay West.

Blizzard Puts Heavy Burden on Equipment

Plows and graders must first open a path on the streets for the traffic to move and then return later to widen that path. In some cases residents have shoveled out their drives after the first trip through of the plows and have had those driveways plugged up when the plows came back to widen the street lanes.

At Neenah High school about 125 of the 1,079 pupils were absent Tuesday because of the blizzard. Three of the four buses which pick up rural pupils brought in their loads.

Many of the rural pupils stayed with friends or relatives overnight and attempts were made to house anyone unable to get home. Prin H. O. Borgen pointed out today.

Many parents of rural pupils came in to get their children. Two buses were sent out early Tuesday afternoon to return those pupils who had no other way to get home. These buses stayed only on the main roads and took the pupils as close to their homes as possible.

Employment Up Slightly in Twin City Area present a gain over the same period a year ago when only 171 such new openings were received.

Some increase in demand for mill and factory workers has been noted since the first of the year and the prospects in this field are expected to improve. The demand for workers in professional and technical fields again appears to be on the rise. Demand for experienced office workers continues to exceed the supply to a small extent.

Engelbreton also called attention to a sharp rise in the supply of workers during January after there had been a considerable drop in that supply from September to November and even through December. Current registrations on file at the district office rose from 742 at the end of November to 896 at the end of January after dropping to 692 at the end of December.

The lack of job openings during the closing months of 1958 definitely tended to discourage the registration of out-of-area applicants. Since only a limited improvement in job prospects locally has occurred during January, the increased supply of job seekers can be attributed to the optimistic outlook for nationwide economic improvement in 1959.

The number of out-of-area applicants, he said, rose from 280 last November to 369 in January. The number of employed persons seeking a change or supplementary employment also increased from 149 to 174 during that period. Although there was some increase in all age groups, the greatest amount was among men in the 19 to 44 year age group and among those ordinarily seeking unskilled or entry level jobs in manufacturing establishments.

Ask Reynolds Opinion On 1-Year Budget

Draheim Says He Doesn't Think Plan Is Legal

Madison — The legislative joint finance committee today voted to ask Attorney General John W. Reynolds for an opinion on the legality of a 1-year state budget, as submitted to the legislature by Gov. Gaylord Nelson. The motion for the request was made by Chairman W. A. Draheim of Neenah, who said he doubted that abandonment of the 2-year budget system is permitted under present law.

The Democratic state administration told the legislature that it wants to work out a new state revenue program that will be adequate to finance state services without repeated revision of state taxes.

The statement came from Joseph E. Nusbaum, financial advisor to Gov. Nelson, appearing before the finance committee of the legislature to explain the governor's 1-year budget proposal.

Nusbaum repeated that Nelson wants to defer his second year budget while a complete study of the state system is made.

Wants Researchers — In another development, Nelson today asked the legislature to provide $35,000 to pay five additional researchers to help him in various studies. The specialists will work in state building, state taxation, administrative reorganization and other fields in which the governor has indicated he proposes major policy departures.

Nusbaum's appearance before the finance committee, consisting of Republicans and Democrats, brought some political sparks.

As Republicans raised questions about the revolutionary one year budget plan of the new Democratic governor, the Democrats on the committee protested. One of them complained that the effort was to put the Democratic administration on the spot.

Draheim of Neenah told Nusbaum that he favors the principle of the 1-year budget as a substitute for 2-year budgets but that "we ought to have the law on the books before we try to achieve it by other and devious means."

See Decrease In Dairy Price Supports

Minimum Levels May Be Reduced By Early April

Washington — Government price supports for dairy products — long a controversial issue — face a possible further reduction for the marketing year beginning April 1. These supports have been at the legal minimum percentage level of their parity prices for several years — that is, 75 per cent. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them. But parity prices as a whole have been reduced about 33 per cent by an agriculture department action revising the basis for calculating these prices.

New Method
Under this new method, the parity price of milk used for manufacturing purposes was put at $3.97 a hundred pounds. It was $4.15 a month earlier. Likewise, the parity price of butterfat dropped from $76.7 to 73.6 cents a pound. Thus Sec. of Agriculture Benson could reduce supports for manufacturing milk from current $3.06 to $2.98 and butterfat from 59 cents to about 55 cents. Some dairy experts estimated this would reduce producer income for these products 50 million dollars or more a year. In putting the present dairy supports into operation, Benson ran into sharp criticism from some dairy groups and dairy-state law makers.

Leads District

Forest Junction Man Top Silo Salesman

More and more dairy cows are being forced to eat their summer feed with one mouth instead of five and the silo population in the Fox Cities area is growing accordingly. Too often wet weather teams with grazing cattle to ruin or, at least, retard good pastures. The old saying counts the cow's feet as additional mouths in wet pastures since they get more of the feed than the cow does. Recognizing this inefficiency at a time when efficiency is a prime factor in break-even figuring, farmers are keeping their cows at home in the barn and bringing the feed to them all year long.

New Silos
In consequence, new silos are springing up in the countryside and paved barnyards are becoming prevalent. One of the men in the thick of this change in feeding techniques is Walter Keller, Forest Junction, a salesman for the Madison Silo company. He topped the Waupaca district last year by selling 35 silos, mostly 20-foot ones. His record is not likely to stand. He was within 10 of the record in January of this year. In addition to the consideration of the pastures themselves, the farmers are discovering year-around silo feeding saves labor, provides a steadier quality of feed which increases production and rules out the vagaries of the weather.

No More Roadblocks
Another consideration to be enjoyed by farmers and urban motorists alike is the cancellation of the need for farmers to drive their herds across highways from the pasture to the barn.

Keller works in an area from Manitowoc to Appleton and from Kiel to DePere choice dairy farm country. He observes the change is being pushed most aggressively by younger farmers in the 30 to 40 year old bracket.

Automatic Feeding
Along with the silo to keep the year-around silage is the automatic feeding equipment which also cuts out inefficient time and energy wasting. Some farmers are building managers around the base of the silo to bring the cows directly to the silage. A new silo and feeding equipment is a major expenditure running between $3,000 to $5,000. However, Keller says some farmers are using the pay making equipment made obsolete by the change in techniques as trade ins.

One of the major advances in modern farming was the invention of the "hay making equipment." Its passing in favor of year-around silage means up once more the revolutionary change taking place on today's farms.

Number of Cattle on Feed Drops

Report 2 Per Cent Decrease in State During Past Year

The number of cattle on feed for market in Wisconsin is down 2 per cent from a year ago, but the total number of cattle on feed in the nation is the highest on record for January, according to the federal state crop reporting service for Wisconsin. Reports from Wisconsin farmers on Jan. 1 show 113,000 head of cattle on feed for market—2 per cent below a year ago but up 6 per cent from average for the date. Wisconsin is among the five states reporting a smaller number of cattle on feed this year. The other states are Pennsylvania, Illinois, Indiana, and Montana.

7 Per Cent
The number of cattle on feed for market in the north central states at the beginning of the year is estimated at 7 per cent more than a year ago while an increase of 23 per cent is shown in the reports from the western states. Estimates for the nation show 6,489,000 head of cattle on feed at the beginning of the year or 11 per cent more than a year ago.

In the 13 states for which quarterly estimates are available, producers intend to market 2,471,000 cattle in the first quarter of this year. Marketings in the 13 states would be equal to 45 per cent of the total number on feed and show an increase of 13 per cent over the marketings in the first quarter of last year.

Red China After World Farm Lead

Intensifies Program To Make Nation Top Agricultural Country

Tokyo — Red China claims it is winning a fight against two age old natural enemies — flood and drought. Some Japanese observers believe the claims are well founded. A Japanese agricultural expert who recently returned from a visit to Communist China, says the mainland is becoming one of the world's leading agricultural nations "at a surprisingly speedy rate." Red China's agricultural production this year, he said, will double that of last year. An Indian Cabinet minister, Dr. Pankaj Pannabhai Deshmukh, who made a 5-week tour of red China and Japan also reported that many of the things the Communists are saying about their "leap forward" campaign in agriculture appear to be true.

Less Weeds
Elimination of weeds greater use of fertilizer and liberal employment of insecticides are some of the factors in the increased production, he reported.

But he noted that the so-called volunteer workers employed in many agricultural projects are not paid.

A professor of agriculture and technology at Tokyo university, said the rapid agricultural development was greatly aided by irrigation and water control projects.

These projects are among the main subjects of the unceasing propaganda beamed by Peiping radio to extol the virtues of the communist regime.

In a recent broadcast, Peiping said a giant shelter belt of trees more than 3,000 miles long will be completed in Kansu province this year. "This will transform the dry climate of Kansu," add 1,600,000 acres to farmland and boost timber production, the radio said.

A hot lunch will be served. Six breeds will be represented—including 20 bred gilts and 11 boars. Breeders are Yorkshire Duroc Hampshire Landrace, Chester White and Poland China.

Consignors are Gene Kadatz, route 1 Appleton; Oliver V. Lerum, and Carlton Sievert, route 1 Seymour; Albert Bruns and Ernest Bruns, route 2 Hortonville; Lloyd Ziegler, route 1, Hortonville; Darrell Mueller, and Ronad Nelson, Seymour; F. E. Kaphingst and sons, route 1, Appleton; and Sams brothers, Hortonville.

Food Prices May Be Heading Down

BY SYLVIA PORTER
The price of food—which takes a little less than one-third of every dollar you spend—is heading down. Assuming no sudden freezes or floods or other calamities of nature change the outlook for the supply of meat, fruits, Sylvia Porter vegetables, we should feel some happy relief in this major part of our budgets in 1959.
The prices of goods of all types—which take a bit more than one-third of every dollar you spend—have turned "mixed."
Some prices are rising, some are falling, and there is at least basis for hope that overall increases in the prices of the hard and soft goods we must buy—or want to buy—to live, won't be significant this year.
Services Climbing
The price of services, which take the final one-third of every dollar you spend, are still climbing, though.
The pace of the climb has slowed, increases in service prices in 1958 averaged about half the total percentage rise in 1957, some of the biggest hikes of 1958 certainly won't be duplicated in 1959.
But the vital point is that increasing costs of the non-things we consider indispensable or extremely desirable in our day-to-day living will continue nibbling at our dollar this year.

Here, in this vast and growing area of services, is where a key story of living costs in 1959 will be written.
A preview to 1959 was given to you in the last official report on the consumer price index, which showed prices down 2/10 of 1 per cent in December. Why? Largely because lower prices for food and seasonal reductions in clothing offset continuing increases in rents, in the costs of running a house, in medical care.
Probable Trends
Let's run down a typical list of services, check what happened to prices of the services in 1958, project the probable trends in 1959.
Rents . . . Up 15 per cent between the end of 1957 and the end of 1958. The upsurge in rents has slowed to a moderate climb, but the trend is still upward.
Mortgage interest rates. . . Actually, these didn't start advancing until the later months of 1958. There is no doubt that mortgages will cost more in 1959 than in 1958 in areas across the nation.
Auto insurance . . . Up 13 per cent last year. Boosts in car insurance rates surely will not be so big this year, but whatever changes are made will be upward.
Transit fares . . . Up almost 5 per cent, still rising.
Railroad fares . . . Up 2 per cent, still rising.
Hospital rates . . . Up 4 1/2 per cent, still rising.
Group hospitalization insurance rates . . . Up a little over 10 per cent, hopefully rising at a slower pace.
TV repairs . . . Up 6 per cent and going you know where.
Telephone rates. . . Up a bit more than 3 per cent, climbing.
Postage rates. . . Up 17 per cent and staying put only if President Eisenhower's request for a further hike is turned down by congress.
Laundry service . . . Up 3 per cent, maybe leveling now.
Beauty shop services . . . Up 4 per cent, still rising.
Motion picture admissions . . . Up 3 per cent, holding.
Biggest Hikes
And so I could go on and on, touching on services ranging from a home permanent refill to an appendectomy operation. The biggest hikes in service costs do appear behind us: the phase of catching up in the service field does appear to be coming to a close. But there are no signs whatsoever of a reversal in an uptrend which began before World War II and which has persisted virtually without interruption ever since.
Hopefully, plentiful food supplies will hold down this part of our living costs in 1959. Hopefully, competition among businessmen and the higher efficiency of most corporations will hold down prices of most things in 1959. Hopefully, then, the total rise in the consumer price index in 1959 will be well within modest limits.
But non-things will continue to nick your dollar for an extra dime here, an extra quarter there. And never before have you needed so many services, wanted so many services and bought so many services as now.

The Joseph Wittmann Family, route 4, Appleton, has been named Calumet county's 4-H family of the year. Mrs. Wittmann recently completed five years of adult 4-H leadership. Their daughter, Caryl, was a state clothing project winner in 1958 and was also a Wisconsin delegate to the national 4-H club congress. Her brother, Robert, was Wisconsin's 4-H delegate to Camp Minivan last summer. Here the family looks over a special certificate of recognition which they received from the International Farm Youth Exchange.

Legal Question Farmers Should Know Who Owns Milk Hauled to Plant

Madison — Dairy farmers selling bulk milk should carefully consider the problem of who owns milk while it's being hauled from their farm to the plant.
According to a recent survey by a University of Wisconsin farm economist, most bulk producers think the plant takes title to the milk at the farm, just before it goes into the truck.
It might take a court case to establish just when the plant does take title, says Hugh Moore.
Need Agreement
The researcher points out that without a definite agreement a farmer might be the loser if his milk should be spoiled in shipment. Another problem is added hauling costs when the milk is diverted to a different plant.
Moore says a bulk milk producer could protect himself against loss by signing a title agreement with the plant. When no definite agreement exists, the farmer should make sure the milk hauler is bonded and has adequate insurance coverage. He points out that the federal milk order may be changed to allow for this.
Right now most plants are paying any added hauling costs for milk diverted to other plants. However, because of the uncertainty of title to the milk, this is another problem in bulk selling.
To clear this up, a plan of parent plant pricing could be adopted. Such a plan would require parent plants to pay added hauling costs for milk diverted to other plants.

BAND FERTILIZER PLACEMENT

FOR AC DRILL PLANTERS

For application of high-analysis fertilizer, you need wide separation of seed and fertilizer bands. With a side band attachment on your Allis-Chalmers Drill Planter, you can place fertilizer below and to the side of your seed (corn, cotton, soybean, sorghum).

Fertilizer is near enough for roots to reach it easily — yet far enough away to prevent burning. Plants use band-placed fertilizer more efficiently. You get a more uniform stand. Crops grow faster, mature earlier, yield more.

If you plan heavy fertilization of your row crops, ask about the side band attachment for your Allis-Chalmers Drill Planter.

Backers of Federal Rural Power System Mobilize Against Foes

Fight Administration Effort to Cut Farm Electrification Program

Washington — Organized backers of the government-financed rural power system start gathering here today to map strategy for a campaign to maintain the system as it now stands.

They are at the 17th annual convention of the National Rural Electric Cooperative association this week.

Uppermost on the convention program will be proposals of the Eisenhower administration that farmer cooperatives, public power districts and similar units organized to provide rural power turn to private sources for credit rather than the government.

Since establishment of the rural electric system in 1935, such borrowers have obtained capital funds from the government at 2 per cent interest a year. More than $3 billion in government loans have been made.

President Eisenhower proposed last year — and again this — that federal credit be replaced largely with private credit.

Cattle Disease Costs Money

Sugar Sickness Hits Dairy Herds — In Winter, Spring

Madison — Ketosis, sometimes called "sugar sickness," can cost real money if it hits your dairy herd, says L. H. Schultz, dairy husbandman at the University of Wisconsin.

Ketosis may strike high production cows any time from about ten days to six weeks after calving. Schultz says the highest number of cases happen from December to April.

The first sign of ketosis is a drop in appetite. Cows usually refuse to eat grain first and then silage, but may keep on times they will chew on boards eating hay for awhile. Sometimes they pick up hay and then drop it from their mouths.

Ketosis is an expensive problem because production drops and the cow loses weight, says Schultz. However, few animals die from ketosis, he says.

Best Way

The best way to handle ketosis is to try and prevent it in the first place. There is no guaranteed method of prevention, but a dairyman can do something to protect his herd.

Cows should not be too fat at calving time and should be kept full of good quality roughage, recommends Schultz. Bring cows up to full feed on concentrates, usually by at least ten days after calving.

A fast change in the ration or a ration with bad-smelling grass silage may cause trouble. Keep a good balance between roughage and grain along with enough protein and minerals.

Schultz also suggests cows should be kept comfortable, given plenty of exercise and fresh air.

If a cow does get ketosis, Schultz says the treatment should be decided by the dairyman and his veterinarian.

Award Winning Came Easy for Mrs. James Herter New London, during her 10 years as a member of the Sunrise 4-H club, Marion. Mrs. Herter, now a telephone operator, is displaying some of her many awards including the Wisconsin Key award for outstanding contributions. Her certificate is rimmed in various pins which she received.

Award Winner 4-H Activities Helpful to New London Woman

New London — Activities in 4-H clubs can be rewarding in many ways, according to Mrs. James Herter, 217 Wisconsin street, who has received numerous awards as well as learning many of the finer arts of making household chores easier.

Mrs. Herter recently graduated from 4-H club activities after spending 10 years as a member of the Sunrise club of Marion. After holding many of the offices of the club, she became a junior leader and served in that capacity for five years.

Highlight of her activities was receipt of a state 4-H club key award, which included a 4-H club bracelet. It was given for outstanding contributions to 4-H club work through the development of leadership, citizenship and community service. She was one of three in Waupaca county to receive the key this year.

She has received a variety of pins and awards in frozen foods, health, safety, record books and other awards in district and county programs. She was given a pen and pencil set for her record book in county competition.

While Mrs. Herter admits that her 4-H activities took up much of her spare time, she also finds, now that she is married, that many of the things she learned are helpful around the house.

What she learned about food preservation, foods and nutrition, gardening and dress making helps her at home, while she is not working as a telephone operator at the New London exchange of the Wisconsin Telephone company.

Cash Prizes

It also has been profitable from the standpoint of earning money. During her 10 years as a member, she averaged about 50 entries at the county fairs and each year she wins many cash prizes. For example, this year she won 15 firsts, 10 seconds and three thirds.

Mrs. Herter also has been instrumental in getting her brothers interested in 4-H activities. Her brother, Lloyd Jenskow, Marion, is an active member and has made a number of trips in the county and state as part of his projects. She also is getting her brother, Charles, 10, launched in the club.

Fox Valley Vital Timber Tree Resource

10 East Central Counties Contain
A Seventh of Total

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The Fox River Valley contains one of the state's most concentrated industrial districts some of the richest agricultural lands and an important slice of the state's population.

But the region also has a considerable timber resource, the state conservation department has discovered in its forest inventory studies.

The east central counties are not generally regarded as forested in a state which has extensive timberlands elsewhere. But the district's area is nearly one seventh commercial forest land the conservation department has found. The total standing timber volume is equivalent to 3,612,000 cords.

Half Saw-Timber

Nearly half of the timber land moreover, represents saw-timber.

The present stand is reckoned at 848,500,000 board feet, or a volume sufficient to provide lumber for about 5,000 modern homes.

The 10 counties studied by the department, and covered in the printed inventory report just made available, include Green Lake, Fond du Lac, Sheboygan, Winnebago, Calumet, Manitowoc, Outagamie, Brown, Kewaunee and Door.

Poorly Stocked

They have about 474,000 acres of land classified as commercial forest land with the hardwood types amounting to nearly half of the growing stock. But more than half the commercial forest land in the district is either poorly stocked or non-stocked it was shown.

The highest ratio of commercial forest land is in Door county, the lowest in Winnebago. The survey estimated that about 68,000 acres of Outagamie county land is commercial forest land.

Expressed in percentages Outagamie county has 16.6 per cent of its land in commercial forest; Brown, 13.8; Door, 33; Manitowoc, 16; Winnebago, 6; Calumet, about 12; Green Lake, 11.6; Fond du Lac, 7; and Sheboygan, 17.

Department Seeks $1,356,290,000 for Military Projects

Washington — The defense department Monday asked congress to authorize military construction costing $1,356,290,000.

Rep. Thomas J. Lane (D-Mass.) said the department proposal also asks authorization for construction of 21,701 units of family housing for military personnel and dependents at bases in the United States and overseas. The proposal was sent to Lane and other members of congress.

The new construction projects which would be authorized include 328 installations in 49 states and the District of Columbia. In addition, the proposal includes projects in Hawaii, the Caribbean area, Europe, the Pacific islands, Bermuda, Canada and Japan.

The new projects are divided between services as follows:

Army $231,252,000; Navy $195,284,000; Air Force $872,761,000; Army National Guard $20,748,000; Army National Guard $8,316,000; Naval and Marine Corps Reserves $5,300,000; Air Force Reserve $4,093,000; and Air National Guard $5,536,000.

Community Artist series presents Italian Societa Corelli at 8:15 p.m. Feb. 19 at Lawrence Memorial chapel.

Societa Corelli, String Ensemble, to Present Concert

The toast of Rome has become the toast of the discriminating music-going public of the United States and Canada. Originally, the Societa Corelli came for a special visit to the U. S. — a limited tour taken out of their busy season at home and arranged through the cooperation of the Italian government. No better ambassador of good will could have been sent here.

At every stage of the tour they earned the highest critical acclaim. New York found them a "joy to hear." Boston reveled in an "evening of superb music making." In Minneapolis they provided "a superlative musical experience." And Philadelphia called their concert "one of the highlights of this or any season."

So great was the interest in the Societa Corelli, so warm their reception, that a second and third tour had to be arranged, and once again critics and public alike were ravished by one of those rare phenomena of the American concert world, an evening of music of such transparent beauty and moving eloquence that literally everyone could enjoy it to the utmost.

It is no surprise, therefore, that a fourth tour of the United States and Canada was definitely planned for the season 1958-59, thanks again to the interest of the Italian government.

Nor was anyone in Rome surprised at the fact that the Societa Corelli was called back to these shores for a fourth time. A difficult city to please, it had itself lost its heart to this fabulous ensemble, the purity of whose tone is matched by amazing precision and warmth of execution.

They perform with a dynamic intensity, so fully in rapport with the music and with one another that they require no conductor for the performance of their extensive repertoire.

The thirteen string musicians have done well to name themselves after Arcangelo Corelli, in his day the toast of Rome too. As a violinist he brought the art of string playing to heights never before achieved; as a composer he revealed new dimensions of tonal richness in the string instruments, which he applied both to solo and to ensemble performance. The Societa Corelli carried on this great tradition to the joy of audiences on both sides of the Atlantic.

Tickets for the forthcoming concert may be purchased at Bellings Pharmacy.

Myoshi Umeki Fulfills Dream Of Residing in United States

New York — It's not true what they say about Japanese women. They don't walk three paces behind their husbands. "If we did we'd never get anywhere on time," said

Myoshi Umeki, star of the new Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "Flower Drum Song." Miss Umeki became an instant pet on Broadway, a street more noted for its jealousies than its warm welcomes.

"She's got the best sense of humor of any actress I ever knew," Oscar Hammerstein told a friend. Myoshi, a jazz band singer in Japan, had yearned to come to America since she saw her first movie at the age of seven. But it was a sad day for her mother and eight brothers and sisters when she left Tokyo in 1955.

"My mother kept sending me rice for some time," she recalled smiling. "She didn't think they had rice here."

Hotel Problem Miss Umeki was a bit overawed herself on her arrival. One of the first things she noticed in her hotel room was a sign saying, "Do Not Disturb." She took it literally. "I thought it was a warning to me," she said. "So for three days I was afraid to make a sound or ask a question — for fear I would disturb someone."

But success came in giant strides to the slender Nipponese beauty. She quickly became a television favorite and won an academy award for her first film in "Sayonara."

She met and married Winfield Ope, a TV director. "Everything in my life happens suddenly," she said. "Nothing comes from planning."

Many Dreams "I always wanted the dreamy things — to be a pianist and a ballet dancer. But I never took acting or singing lessons. I'm too stubborn."

"And what I didn't learn to do, now I am doing. If I am a star, it is only because I don't know how to do anything else."

But stardom has made little change in her way of life. "I like to live like everybody else," she said, "except I go to the theater more often — eight times a week."

"I have no more ambitions. My big ambition was to come to America, and I have no more goals or dreams. I am happy now every day — and never trying too hard. My biggest problem is to make my dog understand my English."

Skiing a Favorite Miss Umeki's favorite sport is skiing — she has broken a leg at it — and her biggest fear is of bugs. "I love all animals," she said. "I would like to tame lions. I bet I could ride an elephant. But I am afraid of butterflies. I could not touch them."

Dieting is no problem with 5-foot-1 Myoshi who weighs only 100 pounds. She likes to go on food binges. When she discovers something new to her — such as her favorite American dish, pizza pies — she'll eat nothing else for days.

Homesick for Mother "That's my life. I do one thing for a while until I wear it out — then I try something else."

"My husband read in the papers that a girl died after her stomach exploded. Now, when I reach for another piece of cheese, he tells me, 'All right, go ahead — if you want your stomach to explode.' So I stop."

Is she ever homesick for her native land? "I miss my mother," she said. "She is ill and losing her sight."

"Ten years I have been in this business, and my mother has never seen me on the stage. She is so shy. She said she would be scared to go in to a theater. When she was told I had won an Oscar, she asked, 'What is it? What is it for?'"

"She is old-fashioned, my mother, but she is all Japan to me."

Myoshi Umeki, Star of the Broadway musical, Flower Drum Song, climbed the ladder of success in a hurry. Myoshi, a jazz band singer in Japan, came to the United States in 1955. Since then she has been a television favorite, won a motion picture academy award for her work in the film, Sayonara, met and married an American television director and now is a Broadway star.

Igor Stravinsky to Go To Japan Art Festival

Tokyo — Composer-conductor Igor Stravinsky and the Alma Trio will represent the United States at the second Osaka International Arts festival April 10 to May 10.

Seven countries will be represented, with the Vienna State opera performing Mozart's "Don Giovanni" and "The Marriage of Figaro" as the biggest contributions. Other artists will be conductor Fernando Previtali of Italy, pianist Marisa Regules of Argentina, violinist Valery Klimov of the Soviet Union, Spanish guitarist Andres Segovia and France's Janine Charrat ballet.

Stravinsky will lead the Japan Broadcasting corporation.

Joann Johnson, William Jansen Betrothal Told Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Johnson, Pulaski, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joann Gail, to William A. Jansen, son of Mrs. Earl Jansen, Squirrel Lake, Minocqua, and the late Earl L. Jansen.

Miss Johnson, a junior at the University of Wisconsin, is majoring in occupational therapy. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Mr. Jansen, a graduate of Lawrence college, is currently studying at the University of Wisconsin Law school. He is affiliated with Beta Theta Pi, social fraternity and Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity.

A spring wedding is being planned by the couple.

8 Candidates Installed by UCT Council Eight new candidates were initiated by Appleton council 155 of United Commercial Travelers Saturday at the Masonic temple. The annual officers' dinner preceded the installation.

After the initiation, council and auxiliary members held a dance at the Hotel Appleton.

The bidding (rubber bridge): South West North East 1 H 1 S 3 H Pass 4 N T Pass 5 D Pass 6 H Pass Pass Pass North's free double raise was a shade skimpy in respect to high cards but was nevertheless the best action available; and, of course, South, with 19 high-card points, was right in becoming very slam-minded after that double raise.

West decided against leading from his honors in spades and diamonds, and not wanting to lead a singleton trump, either, he chose the club ten as what seemed the least of evils. This opening gave declarer a bad moment, since he had to fear that it was a singleton, but to put up the club ace was almost tantamount to surrendering the contract, so South played a low card from dummy.

It should be observed that if East had gone up with the compositions, Now 76 and a club king, declarer would have had no trouble whatsoever. He could control any re- turn, draw trumps, cash the club queen, and discard two.

West covered with the king. East, however, at least made his opponent work for the contract by holding out his club king and permitting South to win with the queen.

Now South had some losing spades tricks to provide for but he made just that provision. Winning the first trick with the club queen, he drew two rounds of trumps, cashed the club ace and ruffed a club, then cashed the diamond ace and ruffed the low diamond in dummy. He ruffed away dummy's last club and led the diamond queen from his own hand. When West covered with the king, he was presented with the trick, a spade being discarded from dummy. Now West had to return a spade to South's major tenace, or by leading another diamond, permit a second spade discard from dummy while South ruffed.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Spring Reducing Series

During the spring and summer, skirt lengths will remain from excess flesh. Both problems can be corrected by today's routines—self who could do with a summer legline!

To get it, start with these calf-trimming routines: 1. Without shoes, stand erect. To a slow count of five come up on the balls of the feet and then quickly let the heels down to the floor—but not so quickly as to jar the body. Repeat 10 to 20 times.

2. On floor lie on your back, raise the legs straight up in the air and cross them at the calves. Now repeatedly cross-cross the legs so that the back of one is "massaged" by the front of the other. Repeat 20 times.

3. And easy—be sure the heels of your shoes fit snugly. Slipping heels cause the calf muscles to work overtime. To compensate, the muscles grow sinewy and

Party at Weyauwega

Mrs. Mary Keeney to Note 100th Birthday

By Mrs. Vernon Paschke
Weyauwega — Mrs. Keeney will be guest of honor Sunday at an open house to celebrate her 100th birthday.
The party will be from 2:30 to 5 p.m. Sunday in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church.
The former Mary Bozile was born in the state of New York Feb. 17, 1859. She remembers when, at the age of eight, she moved to Wisconsin with her parents. The family traveled by oxen as far west as Lake Michigan, crossed the lake by boat and settled at Green Lake. Man-awa, "which was nothing but timber at the time," was the site of the family's next home. When Bozile bought the American house, a hotel on the present site of the bowling alleys, he moved his wife and children to Weyauwega.

Owned Print Shop

In 1883, Mary Bozile and H. S. Keeney were married in Evansville by the Rev. Edward Savage. Keeney, who followed in his father's footsteps, owned and operated the local printing office and newspaper. He gave up his work in the early 1900's because of ill health and died in 1931.

Of the couple's five sons and three daughters, four still are living, all in Weyauwega. They are Mrs. Carrie Dittich, with whom Mrs. Keeney resides, Mrs. Mabel Wolf, Mrs. Sadie McDonald and Charles Keeney. Her other descendants include 21 grandchildren and 40 great-grandchildren.

Active in Church

The remarkably spry woman has always been an active church woman and still attends services at the First Presbyterian church when weather permits. She was a member of the ladies auxiliary until the group disbanded. At the age of 98 she was elected secretary of the Pioneer club, a group of elderly men and women who meet once a year, and was reelected to the post at the club's last meeting.

Until July 1, 1948, when she moved to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Keeney maintained her own household, doing all her own work. Shortly before her 90th birthday she baked a large batch of bread for a church sale. Until last year she prepared meals for her daughter and herself and washed the dishes. She still enjoys hemming dish towels and knitting.

The birthday celebrant derives much enjoyment from visits with her relatives and friends. Television and newspapers play an important part in her leisure hours.

When Mrs. Keeney was 94 years old she fell and broke her hip. At first it was feared she would spend her remaining years in a wheel chair but no one reckoned with the great-grandmother's determination to walk again. And walk she did. During the last year Mrs. Keeney has fallen twice. This summer she cracked two ribs and injured her arm at a picnic. In November she broke her arm in a fall at her home. The broken bones have left her undaunted; she is as cheerful and high-spirited as ever. After her most recent fall her children have been insisting that they help her whenever she walks, especially since she conveniently forgets to use her cane.

"Grandma Keeney", as she is widely known, has had the thrill of riding in all modes of transportation from the covered wagon to the most recent model automobile. One of her most exciting experiences was an airplane ride which she and her son, Charles, took to Michigan shortly after her 90th birthday.

The birthday "girl", undismayed by her age, has insisted she will dance on her 100th birthday. With her courage and daring she's apt to prove she can.

Dad-Son Event Set By Elks

The annual fathers and sons party for members of the Appleton Elks club will be held at the club from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 22. The party will be for sons from the ages 5 through 14.

The program will include a magician, Curt Walker, movies, gifts and a lunch. Tickets for the sons are available at the club and must be purchased by Feb. 19.

Committee chairmen are James Van Rooy and John Goehler who suggest that if a member has no son he may take the son of a deceased Elk or an Elk who is out of town.

W. J. Servotte To Head Drive For College

St. Norbert Hopes To Get $4,200,000 In 10-Year Period

William J. Servotte, president of Bay West Paper company, today was named general chairman of the St. Norbert college development fund campaign. Announcement of Servotte's appointment came from Clayton Ewing, chairman of the citizens committee of the college.

In his role as general chairman, Servotte will head an extensive committee organization, now being formed, to direct the operations of a program to raise $4,200,000 for the college in the next 10-year period.

Servotte formerly served as secretary treasurer of the Green Bay Packers and as president of the Association of Commerce. He has held the presidency of the National Tissue association for two terms.

In its broad outlines, the program is divided into two main phases. The first phase—or "immediate needs"—portion—calls for gifts totalling $1,858,000 on pledges extending over the next 3-year period. The growth of the college, paralleling the population trends of northeastern Wisconsin, will call for an additional $2,350,000 for completion of the program.

Faculty Fund
Heading the list of immediate needs are $300,000 to be added to the faculty fund, designed both to bring current salaries of lay faculty members into line with present-day living costs, and to allow subsidization of advanced study toward doctorate degrees by both lay and priest members of the instructor staff. Next, a fund of $100,000 is required to enlarge and remodel the present Boyle hall library, and $258,000 for classroom expansion.

Only two buildings are included in the first stage of the program. A science hall, estimated at $800,000, is required to replace the existing inadequate war-time temporary structure, and a minimum of $400,000 for a student union.

The second, or long-range, phase of the development program, calling for the expenditure of $2,350,000, again places strong emphasis on faculty improvement, with an additional $700,000 earmarked for this purpose. Also included in the long-range goals are $600,000 for a student scholarship and loan fund, $750,000 for a field house and $300,000 for faculty housing and campus growth.

$500,000 Fire Loss At Fordham Building

New York — Material on government-subsidized research projects escaped damage in a half-million-dollar fire in a chemistry building at Fordham university.

Firemen fought the explosion-dotted blaze on the Bronx campus for an hour to bring it under control Monday. A student laboratory assistant was treated for smoke poisoning.

The salvaged material pertained to cancer research projects for the National Institute of Health and the air force and an undisclosed project for the atomic energy commission.

Dr. William O'Connor, chairman of Fordham's chemistry department, said total loss probably would reach about $500,000, including $250,000 worth of scientific equipment.

Skin Tends Toward Dryness As People Age, Says Molner

By Dr. G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am a woman 80 years old. For several years I have suffered terribly with an itching in the groin. There is absolutely no sign of any breaking out or rash. All I do is use cold water to wash and apply vaseline. Dr. Molner: Could this be a thing that is more or less common among elderly people?"—Mrs. E. S.

I should say yes, it is more or less common among people who are up in years—but I'd like to say right now, before we go any farther, that it isn't something that necessarily comes with age. More common with age, but that's all you see. I don't want readers to think that it is bound to occur, because then they'll start expecting it, and looking for it, and maybe worrying themselves into making it occur when, otherwise, it wouldn't.

I'm a great believer in taking reasonable health precautions, but not borrowing trouble or imagining it or expecting it when most of the things you worry about never happen.

Oil Glands Peter Out

The fact remains, however, that as we grow older—and this applies to men as well as women—the oil glands of the skin tend to peter out. The skin tends toward dryness. Yet the nerves are still there. The result is itching.

Excessive bathing, in such a case, washes away what oils there are in the skin, and

Lastly, often vitamin deficiency is a factor in such itching, and we know very well that many people in their up-per years suffer from lack of enough vitamins. In this par-

The curtains, of course, must be wider than the window. Mrs. D. Start the plan for them by finding the center of the wall. Then determine the rod length by measuring from the wall center to the edge of the window frame that is toward the narrower strip of wall. The rod must be twice this measurement and so must the curtains. Hang the rod to project forward in the window, and turn the curtain back to conceal the fact that it covers wall and not window frame on one side.

More than 300 persons are expected for the annual meeting and leader recognition program of Tri-city Boy Scouts Tuesday, March 17, at Foster school.

Father Held in Son's Slaying

Bridgeport, Conn. — Four-year-old Albert Rotz will be buried today while his father remains in jail, charged with murder.

The boy's foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rotzal, will attend the Lutheran funeral services. His father, Louis Kish, 41, meantime faces arraignment on a charge of murder.

The body of the child was found Saturday in a crude grave of dirt, brush and leaves. His face was bruised.

He had disappeared Friday from a department store where he had gone with his foster mother.

Police picked up Kish and charged him with breach of peace, a common holding charge in Connecticut. He was re-arrested the following day on a coroner's warrant. Today he was charged with murder and ordered held without bond.

Police said they have established no motive for the slaying. Kish has consistently denied any connection with the death.

Wants - to - Know - It - All Has to Have Girl Friend's History

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My boy friend and I have been having a heated argument over your column. In the past you've stated emphatically that a girl need not tell her fiancé ALL about her past history. You said it was none of his business. Ann Landers what went on before he came along.

You were quite careful to point out however, that a prison term or a child born out of wedlock were more than "indiscretions" and should not be kept secret from a fiancé.

I agree with you all the way, but my boy friend says you encourage girls to be dishonest. He claims a fellow has the right to know a girl's background, just as he is entitled to know the pedigree of a dog before he buys it. Can you explain more fully, please in the paper, why you think it's unwise for a girl to tell all?—JENNIE

Dear Jennie: Interesting that your boy friend compares a girl with a dog. It COULD mean he'll treat you like one after you're married.

Each girl must decide for herself how much "past history" she wishes to share with her intended. When a bride-to-be asks me, however, I advise her to give no information regarding foolish mistakes.

Only an exceptional male to go to work—and usually such statements are widely different from family customs, thought or ambition. What are parents to do?

First, remember that everybody is different, then listen and when the noise ceases, present your point of view. Advise, caution, but stop short of threats. Hold on to what you believe to be right but try to find just what is in the mind of the young person who is differing. He, too, could be right—for him.

blessed with rare understanding of human failings could forgive such "mistakes" and not bury the resentment deep in his memory, like a time-bomb—to be exploded at some future date.

Although the much-in-love male may accept the news with equanimity, chances are good that later, when time has tarnished the marital finish (as it is bound to do) the husband will recall the sin during an argument. After he's brought it up four or five times, the wife is nothing but a tramp.

Remember the old Russian adage: "You are the master of the unspeakable word. Once it is out of your mouth—you are the slave."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a senior and unless some miracle happens I'll wind up my last year of high school without a single date. My friends don't realize it because I get around a lot. I'm active on committees, I'm invited along as an extra, or I go stag with other girls. But the truth is, no fellow has ever called me on the phone for an honest to goodness date.

I'm everyone's friend and nobody's sweetheart. Boys want my advice on how to get OTHER girls. They call me a "swell pal" and a "good sport", but no one wants to take me out.

My Home Ec teacher, who is wonderful, suggested I lose weight but my mother says I'm not fat, just pleasingly plump. (I'm tall—5'7"—and need some flesh on my bones.) She says when the right fellow comes along he'll take me as I am. She doesn't want me to make myself nervous by dieting. Is she right? I need help.—THE LONELY CROWD

Sorry, but I don't agree with Mother. Dieting needn't mean starving one's self into a state of collapse. More girls are nervous because they can't get a date than because they are dieting.

The fact that you state your height but not your weight makes me suspect you are too heavy. True, the more mature fellows attach little importance to a girl's figure, but why make it tough for a guy by burying your sterling qualities under a lot of unnecessary blubber?

My advice is go to a doctor and let HIM decide. He'll give you the straight goods, minus the mother-love.

JUICE-TIME seems a logical point at which to introduce your baby to a cup. But do begin promptly to offer milk in a cup, too, even for a few swallows. Otherwise, he may decide that only juice should come out of that new shape and feeling, and it will be difficult to change his mind.

Scenes From a snowy city show Appleton during the height of Tuesday's storm. No cars could be found on the deserted parking lot, top photo, since most businesses closed early and employees were sent home. A tractor works to clear snow in the industrial "flats" between Lawe and Oneida streets, while fellow workers come to the aid of a friend and his car in the Riverside Paper company parking lot, upper right. The snow blows across Highway 125, left, and one of the most pitiful and common sights of the day, lower left, is a car in a ditch.

Our Children

'Everyone's Different,' Good Rule to Follow

BY ANGELO PATRI

Whenever the family got into an argument about the deeds of one or another of the relatives, Aunt Rose would say, "Everybody's different." That ferret!

So cheerfully, yet so definitely, as to stop the criticism there and then. If fathers and mothers could remember that each child born to them comes as a person of rights, feelings, tastes and abilities and make allowances for their differences, family life would be smoother and easier for all of them.

Religion and politics can become topics of dissension, and hot arguments between parents and their adolescent children. Young people often test such fields of human interest by taking a side opposite to the accepted one. They are likely to make statements with great assurance and emphasis. The young people form themselves—or that they want opinions on matters that engage the best minds in the country. That irritates their elders and drives them to the relatives. Aunt Rose says, "You don't know what you're talking about." That ferret!

Really Questions Youth rarely believes that talk settles things. What they are trying to do by their arguments is to get information that will enable them to understand something of what goes on about them. Often their positive assertions of knowledge are but disguised questions.

Sometimes young people inform their parents that they are not going to college; or, that they are but they are going to take courses they want to take and not those their parents have set for them. They are likely to say they are going to be married—or they are going to live by
